EAST LIVERPOOL, O., TUESDAY, OCTOBER 23, 1900.

Been Bled to the Very Limit.

DEVILS DEMANDING MONEY

One Reputable Citizen Receives a
Message That He Must Put
Up $50.00.

THAT FRAUD OF A HINDOO

Have we believers in witchcraft in our midst. Are men and women plying their nefarious traffic right here in East Liverpool and preying upon the fears of their victims. Can such things be in this enlightened age?

Yea, verily. We have it from what should be good authority that one family in this city has been victimized to the extent of $400, while a prominent professional man has been threatened that, unless he produces $50, and places the same in the hands of a so-called clairvoyant in town, he will be "hoodooed" and rendered sick and despondent, and that he will not recover until the money is forthcoming and the "hoodoo" or "voodoo" removed. Of course he treated the matter with silent contempt, but is very indignant that the scoundrel should dare to send him such a message.

Our informant does not desire to be known in this matter, although we advised him to put the case in the hands of the proper officials and have the blackguards and blackmailers run out of the city, or have them prosecuted on the charge of blackmail and placed behind prison walls.

This paper has shut out from its columns all advertisements for palmists, second sight seers, clairvoyants and all such humbuggery, as there are many people who are humbugged thereby and who spend hard-earned cash in endeavoring to accomplish the impossible and to secure wealth and prosperity without rendering due equivalent for the same. The suckers who are thus caught, richly deserve their punishment; but this paper will not protect or aid the sharks in their nefarious, illegal and devilish practices, and we purpose giving them into the hands of the law whenever we can do so.

Not long since there appeared in our midst a man and a woman working along this line. The man designated himself as "Prince Zanaluma, the Hindoo Palmist." His partner assured us that he was engaged in legitimate and clean business, and that palmistry, as given by "Prince Zanaluma," was a science. We published their advertisement for a few days, when we caught a glance of "Zanaluma" on the street, and were astounded to find that the fellow was none other than Theodore Deitrich, a former resident of New Brighton, Beaver county, Pa., and later on engaged in photography with one Cowles, a dead beat who at one time did business and the people in general in an establishment between Washington and Market streets, on Fourth street, in East Liverpool. Deitrich had disguised himself with some sort of coloring matter, cultivated long hair and a pendulous goatee, and looked the foreigner to the letter, and to life. It is said that he caught many suckers while here. He would make a clever and successful impostor if he had about a bushel more of gray matter, as he has a full supply of cheek and gall.

MORE RAILROAD TALKS.

RIGHTS OF WAY HAVE BEEN
FILED WITH THE RECORDER.

If Signs Are Good There Ought to be
Some Kind of a Railroad Constructed Very Soon.

Lisbon, Oct. 23.—(Special.)—There has been filed with Recorder Crosser for record five rights of way along the old Beaver canal route extending from Lisbon to East Liverpool.

The papers were secured and filed by L. W. Healy, one of the promoters of the proposed East Liverpool and Lisbon electric line in which the East Liverpool street railway people are largely interested. The rights of way are good for one year from September 23, 1900.

The fact that these people have expended $50 to have the papers put on the county record looks as though they mean business.

Seven rights of way were also filed for record, which were taken out by the Canton & East Liverpool Railroad company in December, 1895. These documents cover the ground between Smith's Ferry and Kensington by way of West Point.

This company sold their franchise to the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad company, who filed the papers and are now making a new survey.

SETTLED THE CASE.

Mrs. Betts, of Leetonia, Received $2-
500 for the Death of Her Husband.

Lisbon, Oct. 23.—(Special.)—Lydia A. Betts, widow of Jonas Betts, who met death at the Leetonia railroad crossing several months ago, has settled her damage claim.

The claim was filed in probate court against both the Pennsylvania and Erie railroad companies, and the settlement was effected by the payment of $2,500.

NON-SUPPORT.

George B. Duncan Was Arrested on Complaint of His Wife, Annie
M. Duncan.

George B. Duncan was arrested this morning on complaint of his wife, Annie M. Duncan, and taken to the court of Squire Rose to answer to a charge of non-support of a minor child.

He pleaded guilty and a settlement was effected by Duncan agreeing to pay his wife $2 a week for the support of the child and the costs.

CALLED THE DEPARTMENT.

People Were Burning Rubbish And
Somebody Got Excited.

Some rubbish burning at the old electric light plant building about 8:30 this morning caused some one who saw the flames and smoke to become excited.

A telephone message called the department to the scene, but their services were not needed.

—Ed Heckathorn and Samuel Bloor returned yesterday afternoon from New York, where they attended the Metropolitan field day convention.

TOOK THE WHOLE FIRE DEPARTMENT

John Arb Was Hauled to the City
Jail In the Hose Wagon
and

WILL GO TO THE WORKHOUSE

Two More Offenders Took a Box
Car For a "Sleeper" and
Were Run In.

HAS BEEN AT MUCH EXPENSE

The police gathered in a few violators of the city ordinances last night in order to keep up their good record, and the people who drinketh bad whisky are now beginning to learn that it is expensive business.

John Arb caused a great deal of trouble yesterday afternoon and it took the whole fire department to arrest him. He was very drunk and had hied himself to a quiet spot under the Jethro trestle when Chief Thompson chanced that way. He spied John Arb and sent for the patrol, but instead the fire department appeared on the scene.

The officers decided it would be a shame to leave John remain on the ground much longer, so he was loaded in the hose wagon and taken to the jail.

All kinds of rumors were afloat that a man had fell from the Jethro bridge and had been seriously injured, but it turned out that John was the man and that the fall had consisted of a fall from grace.

The mayor assessed him the sum of $5 and costs and he will be taken to the works in the morning.

When Cliff Childer gets on a drunk he always hunts up the Midway and finds himself a sleeping place. He should know by this time that the Midway is not a place to sleep, but his memory is not very long. Yesterday Officer Dawson arrested him and took him before the mayor. He had no money and was released, but this morning left $5 60 of his cash to help along the city.

Joe Cannon and John Carney took possession of a box car on the Horn switch last night. They were sleeping the sleep of the unjust when Officers Gill and Morris arrived on the scene. The men were informed that box cars were not made for bed rooms and the victims were taken to the city jail. They were both fined $1 and costs and will join the street gang in the morning.

Sanford Neville was arrested last evening by Officer Mahony. Neville was drunk and disorderly at the corner of Fourth and Washington streets. He will get a hearing today.

That the way of the transgressor is hard should be known to Ocle Geary, but still she will persist in getting drunk. Last night she was drunk and disorderly on Second street, and was arrested by Aufderheide. She will get a hearing some time today.

DOWN THE HILL.

The Trolley Flew Off And the Car
Went Down Washington Street at a Rapid Rate.

Yesterday afternoon as street car No. 7, in charge of Motorman Thomas Jones, turned into Washington street

the trolley flew off, and as the sand box refused to work and the motorman had no power, the car shot down the hill to Second street and came near leaving the rails at the corner.

There were no passengers on the car. The trolley was badly damaged.

THEY ELOPED.

EDWARD MOORE AND KATIE
KAUFFMAN DEPARTED.

Mother Objected to the Young Man,
But Her Daughter Didn't Share
Her Opinion.

Edward Moore, of Rogers, and Miss Katie Kauffman, of Third street, have eloped.

Saturday morning he went to her home and wanted her to go to the theater with him that evening. Her mother refused to let her go and the same evening he met the girl coming from work. She didn't go home for supper and the couple in their travels met her brother Will. He asked her brother to go and buy tickets for the theater, but he refused.

Will went to the theater and watched for the couple, but didn't see them. Yesterday a note was received from Wellsville which read: "Don't worry about Katie, for we are going away to be married and will be back in two or three weeks."

The girl is aged about 18 years and Moore had not been at the house over six times, as the mother objected to him keeping company with her daughter.

SERIOUSLY ILL.

It is Feared Mrs. Emil Zacharias Will Not Recover Her Health.

Mrs. Emil Zacharias, who resides with her husband near the Lyth pipe works, is in a dangerous condition.

The lady is suffering from nervous prostration, having been seriously ill ever since the death of her five-year-old son last week.

It is feared by her friends that she will lose her reason, so affected is she by the bereavement.

COUNCIL.

The Session Tonight Will Probably Be a Very Short
One.

Council meets tonight and unless all indications fail the session will be a short one, but there is no telling what council will do.

There is not a great deal of business to transact, although it is expected a report will be made on the vehicle ordinance.

Hear Sells speak tonight.

AKRON OFFICER

Came Here Last Evening And Took Charge of Charles Strauss.

Charles Strauss, the young man who was arrested here yesterday for stealing a suit of clothes from an Akron party, was taken to that city this morning.

Officer Duffy, of Akron, arrived here last night and took charge of Strauss.

—R. N. Logan has returned to East Palestine after a visit with his mother on Sixth street.

OWEN CASE HELD IN ABEYANCE

The Judge Did Not Refuse Plea For
Alimony but Gave No Decision In His Case.

HOPES FOR A RECONCILIATION

The Judge Reviewed the Entire
Case and Made a Very Lengthy Statement.

THE ATTORNEYS WILL CONFER

Lisbon, Oct. 23.—(Special.)—Although a lengthy decision was rendered in the case of E. J. Owen against Mary Owen, of East Liverpool, the case is still unsettled in the hope that a reconciliation may take place.

Judge Hole refused to dispose of the case today or of the matter of the custody of the children, but intimated that in the event that the end could not be accomplished, a decree for alimony would be given Mrs. Owen.

The evidence in the case, as the court said, was very conflicting, although charges of intemperance were urged on each side, no evidence was produced to prove it, and Judge Hole held that in his opinion both Mr. and Mrs. Owen are today held in good repute in East Liverpool. Mrs. Owen was jealous of Miss Kell, stenographer of Owen at the pottery, but Judge Hole held that she had reason to be, not that there was any criminal relation between them, but because Owen refused and neglected to account for actions which aroused her jealousy and to explain to her the innocence of the actions complained of. Mr. Owen and Miss Kell walked to and from the pottery and soon the rumor of their intimacy was rife through the length and breadth of East Liverpool. When these rumors reached the ears of his wife she on her bended knees begged him to cease walking with her and stop the scandal.

Judge Hole claimed that the court recognized jealousy as a badge of deep and passionate love, and while Owen regarded it as his duty to guard the honor of his stenographer by refusing to dismiss her and restore peace to his home, Judge Hole claimed he should have stood by his wife and the honor of his fireside.

While the court cleared the skirts of Owen and his stenographer as to any criminal action, he expressed the belief that if Owen would remove this cause of jealousy the breach between husband and wife was not yet sufficiently broad enough to prevent them from living together.

The attorneys in the case will confer together and endeavor to effect a reconciliation.

men's Relief Corps Yesterday Afternoon.

TOOK THE WHOLE FIRE DEPARTMENT

John Arb Was Hauled to the City
Jail In the Hose Wagon
and

WILL GO TO THE WORKHOUSE

Two More Offenders Took a Box
Car For a "Sleeper" and
Were Run In.

HAS BEEN AT MUCH EXPENSE

The police gathered in a few violators of the city ordinances last night in order to keep up their good record, and the people who drinketh bad whisky are now beginning to learn that it is expensive business.

John Arb caused a great deal of trouble yesterday afternoon and it took the whole fire department to arrest him. He was very drunk and had hied himself to a quiet spot under the Jethro trestle when Chief Thompson chanced that way. He spied John Arb and sent for the patrol, but instead the fire department appeared on the scene.

The officers decided it would be a shame to leave John remain on the ground much longer, so he was loaded in the hose wagon and taken to the jail.

All kinds of rumors were afloat that a man had fell from the Jethro bridge and had been seriously injured, but it turned out that John was the man and that the fall had consisted of a fall from grace.

The mayor assessed him the sum of $5 and costs and he will be taken to the works in the morning.

When Cliff Childer gets on a drunk he always hunts up the Midway and finds himself a sleeping place. He should know by this time that the Midway is not a place to sleep, but his memory is not very long. Yesterday Officer Dawson arrested him and took him before the mayor. He had no money and was released, but this morning left $5 60 of his cash to help along the city.

Joe Cannon and John Carney took possession of a box car on the Horn switch last night. They were sleeping the sleep of the unjust when Officers Gill and Morris arrived on the scene. The men were informed that box cars were not made for bed rooms and the victims were taken to the city jail. They were both fined $1 and costs and will join the street gang in the morning.

Sanford Neville was arrested last evening by Officer Mahony. Neville was drunk and disorderly at the corner of Fourth and Washington streets. He will get a hearing today.

That the way of the transgressor is hard should be known to Ocle Geary, but still she will persist in getting drunk. Last night she was drunk and disorderly on Second street, and was arrested by Aufderheide. She will get a hearing some time today.

DOWN THE HILL.

The Trolley Flew Off And the Car
Went Down Washington Street at a Rapid Rate.

Yesterday afternoon as street car No. 7, in charge of Motorman Thomas Jones, turned into Washington street the trolley flew off, and as the sand box refused to work and the motorman had no power, the car shot down the hill to Second street and came near leaving the rails at the corner. There were no passengers on the car. The trolley was badly damaged.

THEY ELOPED.

EDWARD MOORE AND KATIE
KAUFFMAN DEPARTED.

Mother Objected to the Young Man,
But Her Daughter Didn't Share
Her Opinion.

Edward Moore, of Rogers, and Miss Katie Kauffman, of Third street, have eloped.

Saturday morning he went to her home and wanted her to go to the theater with him that evening. Her mother refused to let her go and the same evening he met the girl coming from work. She didn't go home for supper and the couple in their travels met her brother Will. He asked her brother to go and buy tickets for the theater, but he refused.

Will went to the theater and watched for the couple, but didn't see them. Yesterday a note was received from Wellsville which read: "Don't worry about Katie, for we are going away to be married and will be back in two or three weeks."

The girl is aged about 18 years and Moore had not been at the house over six times, as the mother objected to him keeping company with her daughter.

OWEN CASE HELD IN ABEYANCE

The Judge Did Not Refuse Plea For
Alimony but Gave No Decision In His Case.

HOPES FOR A RECONCILIATION

The Judge Reviewed the Entire
Case and Made a Very Lengthy Statement.

THE ATTORNEYS WILL CONFER

Lisbon, Oct. 23.—(Special.)—Although a lengthy decision was rendered in the case of E. J. Owen against Mary Owen, of East Liverpool, the case is still unsettled in the hope that a reconciliation may take place.

Judge Hole refused to dispose of the case today or of the matter of the custody of the children, but intimated that in the event that the end could not be accomplished, a decree for alimony would be given Mrs. Owen.

The evidence in the case, as the court said, was very conflicting, although charges of intemperance were urged on each side, no evidence was produced to prove it, and Judge Hole held that in his opinion both Mr. and Mrs. Owen are today held in good repute in East Liverpool. Mrs. Owen was jealous of Miss Kell, stenographer of Owen at the pottery, but Judge Hole held that she had reason to be, not that there was any criminal relation between them, but because Owen refused and neglected to account for actions which aroused her jealousy and to explain to her the innocence of the actions complained of. Mr. Owen and Miss Kell walked to and from the pottery and soon the rumor of their intimacy was rife through the length and breadth of East Liverpool. When these rumors reached the ears of his wife she on her bended knees begged him to cease walking with her and stop the scandal.

Judge Hole claimed that the court recognized jealousy as a badge of deep and passionate love, and while Owen regarded it as his duty to guard the honor of his stenographer by refusing to dismiss her and restore peace to his home, Judge Hole claimed he should have stood by his wife and the honor of his fireside.

While the court cleared the skirts of Owen and his stenographer as to any criminal action, he expressed the belief that if Owen would remove this cause of jealousy the breach between husband and wife was not yet sufficiently broad enough to prevent them from living together.

The attorneys in the case will confer together and endeavor to effect a reconciliation.

BRYAN GUILTY OF INCONSISTENCY

He Distinguishes Between Good and Bad Monopolies on a Peculiar Basis.

DON'T YOU CORE MY OX

He Berates His "Trusts" Opponents and Admires His "Trust" Friends.

ICE TRUST IS A "LOCAL AFFAIR"

Here is good material for making Republican votes. Mr. Bryan is weighed in the balance and does not balance up right:

Bryan says that those who attempt to divide private monopolies into good monopolies and bad monopolies will never make progress towards the overthrow of trusts.

But Bryan does not say a word against any monopoly, however criminal, when his friends are in it.

He says the ice trust is "a local affair."

This is not true.

The company transacts a wholesale and retail business in the city of Greater New York, N. Y.; in Philadelphia, Pa.; in Baltimore, Md.; in Washington, D. C.; in Camden, N. J.; in Lakewood, N. J., and at Atlantic City, N. J.

The trust, therefore, having its home in New Jersey, the business it transacts can be local only in Camden, Lakewood and Atlantic City.

It cannot be local in Greater New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington, where it transacts an interstate wholesale and retail business.

Its interstate docks and plants in Maine, New York, Maryland and District of Columbia are not localized in New Jersey.

To say that the ice trust is a local affair is a lie made out of the whole cloth.

If Mr. Bryan wants proof of this, he can find it in the following portion of the official report of the American Ice company, to the New York stock exchange, at the time its directors applied for the listing of $12,440,000 preferred stock and $22,939,100 common stock, to the dealings of that exchange. (For convenient reference we refer Mr. Bryan to the report in full on page 793, vol. 69, of the Commercial and Financial Chronicle.)

"Incorporated in New Jersey on March 11, 1899.

"Plants and their location: (a) 11 docks situated in Greater New York; 2 ice manufacturing facilities situated in Greater New York; (b) plants for housing ice, situated on the Hudson river; (c) 4 docks situated in the city of Washington, D. C.; 2 sales depots; 1 ice house on the Potomac river; (d) 1 plant at Prince George county, Maryland; (e) 3 plants for housing ice situated on the Kennebec river; 1 plant for housing ice at Booth Bay, Maine."

The favoritism and protection extended by Emperor Dick Croker, of Greater New York, to the ice trust has been shown in the granting of valuable dockage privileges which no competing ice concern can get.

Two of Croker's dock commissioners, J. Sergeant Cram and Charles F. Murphy, were on the recently published list of stockholders.

The ice trust was given valuable contracts with the City of New York, through the official aid and consent of Croker, Mayor Van Wyck and others, interested stockholders.

According to the official records the following were some of the leading

Democratic stockholders a few weeks ago:

Mayor Robert A. Van Wyck, $525,000; Richard Croker, $100,000; Hugh McLaughlin, $30,000; Corporation Counsel John Whalen, $50,000; John F. Carroll, $467,000; Augustus Van Wyck, writer of the anti-trust plank of the Democratic platform, $175,000; F. A. Croker, $3,600; E. D. Croker, $3,500; L. J. Croker, $1,000; E. R. Carroll, $10,000.

At the Chicago trust conference, Sept. 16, 1899, Mr. Bryan said:

"I want to start with the declaration that a monopoly in private hands is indefensible from any standpoint, and intolerable. I make no exceptions to the rule."

Now let Mr. Bryan denounce the Democratic ice trust.

HANNA AND HIS MEN.

Here is a Little Bit of History That William Jennings Bryan Don't Quote.

Lisbon, in common with other parts of Columbiana county, has good reason to kindly remember Marcus A. Hanna. He has always been a just, humane and merciful employer of workmen, and is a steadfast believer in a fair day's wage for a fair day's work. There are some splendid citizens of East Liverpool who glory in the fact that he is their personal friend:

The Bryanites have been holding up Mark Hanna as a great ogre, whose only object in life was to crush the life out of some workingman and get a few dollars for the remains. At last Mr. Hanna has said a word in self-defense, and this is what he says:

"I never lied to my men, and I never refused my men what was justly due them. I am president of a mine up in Lake Superior, where 2,000 men are employed. Four years ago Mr. Bryan went up there to tell the miners what a terrible man I was. I ordered the mine shut down for half a day—but did not shut off the pay—and told my men to go and see Bryan. They turned their backs on him and went home. Later they sent me resolutions to the effect that they were glad they had a chance to resent the insult that had been offered me on my own property."

Mr. Hanna is satisfied to let it go at that, and it would seem as if he could afford to.

THE MISSIONARY SOCIETY MISSING

Late Eliza Porter Left Property to the Church and Money to Society,

BUT SOCIETY CAN'T BE FOUND

Board of Foreign Missions Wants the Cash and Executor Is In a Quandary.

THE NEWS OF THE COURTS

Lisbon, Oct. 23.—(Special.)—The estate of the late Eliza Porter, of Homeworth, is now in litigation.

Mrs. Porter died two months ago at the age of 78 years, leaving by will a house and lot in Homeworth to the Presbyterian church and provided that the remainder of her estate go to the missionary society.

Joseph Johnson, executor of the estate, filed the suit against John Johnson and about 25 other legal heirs. He has stated to the court that after diligent search he has failed to learn of the existence of such a society and that the board of foreign missions of the Presbyterian church of the United States of America claims to be the legatee, which was intended by the testator.

The personal property amounts to nearly $4,000 and the executor wanted the court to put a special conception on that clause of the will.

F. A. Shoemaker, of Leetonia, came into court just before adjournment last evening and entered a plea of guilty of having furnished liquor to minor girls.

He entered the plea, he said, because he had no money with which to fight the case. As it was his first offense Judge Hole was lenient and fined him $15 and costs, which he paid.

The case of Ohio versus James D. Smith was one assigned for hearing today, but last evening Judge Hole consented to pass the case until later in the term.

Smith is charged with non-support of a minor child, and the case was continued on a motion which stated the absence of an important witness for the defense, who is now in Brazil, Indiana.

The case of C. W. Richards, receiver of the Aetna Fire Association of Cincinnati, against Catherine Bright has been settled out of court. The sum of $113 41 was claimed by reason of a loan extended.

Judgment was entered in favor of the plaintiff in the case of James W. Reilley against John E. Dorman, of Wellsville, in the sum of $512 86 due on a note.

Life's a Sack Race

To a sick man. He's hobbled, hampered, handicapped by his sickness. Every little while he has to lay off for a day.

He can't get ahead. Everybody passes him in the struggle for success. His sickness originates in a diseased condition of the stomach (and most sickness does) there's a cure for it. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is not a cure-all, but a medicine specially designed to cure diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. It cures many forms of disease, because many forms of disease originate in a diseased condition of the stomach and digestive and nutritive system.

"I write to tell you of the great benefit I have received from the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," writes Mr. G. B. Bird, of Byrnside, Putnam County, West Va. "It cured me of a very bad case of indigestion associated with torpid liver. Before I began the use of 'Golden Medical Discovery' I had no appetite, could not sleep or work but very little. The little that I ate did not agree with me; bowels constipated, and life was a misery to me. I wrote to Dr. Pierce, giving the symptoms, and asked for advice. You advised me to try the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' so I began the use of it, and after taking four bottles I felt so well that I went to work, but soon got worse, so I again began the use of it, and used it about eight weeks longer, when I was permanently cured. I took in all about twelve bottles of the 'Discovery,' and some of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets in connection with the 'Discovery.'"

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets keep the bowels in healthy action.

Unsightly Teeth.

The most prolific cause of poor teeth, and of the unpleasant conditions which follows is the accumulation of food between the teeth.

If not properly removed it becomes a medium for the growth of minute organisms, which, developing with tremendous rapidity, produce acids that attack the enamel and cause decay.

The "Oriental" Tooth Powder and "Odonto" Tooth Wash are perfect cleansing agents and a perfect dentifrice. It corrects acidity, cleanses and whitens the teeth, perfumes the breath and leaves in the mouth a delightful sensation of freshness and cleanliness.

"I write to tell you of the great benefit I have received from the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," writes Mr. G. B. Bird, of Byrnside, Putnam County, West Va. "It cured me of a very bad case of indigestion associated with torpid liver. Before I began the use of 'Golden Medical Discovery' I had no appetite; could not sleep or work but very little. The little that I ate did not agree with me; bowels constipated, and life was a misery to me. I wrote to Dr. Pierce, giving the symptoms, and asked for advice. You advised me to try the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' so I began the use of it, and after taking four bottles I felt so well that I went to work, but soon got worse, so I again began the use of it, and used it about eight weeks longer, when I was permanently cured. I took in all about twelve bottles of the 'Discovery,' and some of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets in connection with the 'Discovery.'"

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets keep the bowels in healthy action.

Unsightly Teeth.

The most prolific cause of poor teeth, and of the unpleasant conditions which follows is the accumulation of food between the teeth.

If not properly removed it becomes a medium for the growth of minute organisms, which, developing with tremendous rapidity, produce acids that attack the enamel and cause decay.

The "Oriental" Tooth Powder and "Odonto" Tooth Wash are perfect cleansing agents and a perfect dentifrice. It corrects acidity, cleanses and whitens the teeth, perfumes the breath and leaves in the mouth a delightful sensation of freshness and cleanliness.

THE NEWS REVIEW

BRYAN GUILTY OF INCONSISTENCY

He Distinguishes Between Good and Bad Monopolies on a Peculiar Basis.

DON'T YOU CORE MY OX

He Berates His "Trusts" Opponents and Admires His "Trust" Friends.

ICE TRUST IS A "LOCAL AFFAIR"

Here is good material for making Republican votes. Mr. Bryan is weighed in the balance and does not balance up right:

Bryan says that those who attempt to divide private monopolies into good monopolies and bad monopolies will never make progress towards the overthrow of trusts.

But Bryan does not say a word against any monopoly, however criminal, when his friends are in it.

He says the ice trust is "a local affair."

This is not true.

The company transacts a wholesale and retail business in the city of Greater New York, N. Y.; in Philadelphia, Pa.; in Baltimore, Md.; in Washington, D. C.; in Camden, N. J.; in Lakewood, N. J., and at Atlantic City, N. J.

The trust, therefore, having its home in New Jersey, the business it transacts can be local only in Camden, Lakewood and Atlantic City.

It cannot be local in Greater New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington, where it transacts an interstate wholesale and retail business.

Its interstate docks and plants in Maine, New York, Maryland and District of Columbia are not localized in New Jersey.

To say that the ice trust is a local affair is a lie made out of the whole cloth.

If Mr. Bryan wants proof of this, he can find it in the following portion of the official report of the American Ice company, to the New York stock exchange, at the time its directors applied for the listing of $12,440,000 preferred stock and $22,939,100 common stock, to the dealings of that exchange. (For convenient reference we refer Mr. Bryan to the report in full on page 793, vol. 69, of the Commercial and Financial Chronicle.)

"Incorporated in New Jersey on March 11, 1899.

"Plants and their location: (a) 11 docks situated in Greater New York; 2 ice manufactories situated in Greater New York; (b) plants for housing ice, situated on the Hudson river; (c) 4 docks situated in the city of Washington, D. C.; 2 sales depots; 1 ice house on the Potomac river; (d) 1 plant at Prince George county, Maryland; (e) 3 plants for housing ice situated on the Kennebec river; 1 plant for housing ice at Booth Bay, Maine."

The favoritism and protection extended by Emperor Dick Croker, of Greater New York, to the ice trust has been shown in the granting of valuable dockage privileges which no competing ice concern can get.

Two of Croker's dock commissioners, J. Sergeant Cram and Charles F. Murphy, were on the recently published list of stockholders.

The ice trust was given valuable contracts with the City of New York, through the official aid and consent of Croker, Mayor Van Wyck and others, interested stockholders.

According to the official records the following were some of the leading

Democratic stockholders a few weeks ago:

Mayor Robert A. Van Wyck, $525,000; Richard Croker, $100,000; Hugh McLaughlin, $30,000; Corporation Counsel John Whalen, $50,000; John F. Carroll, $467,000; Augustus Van Wyck, writer of the anti-trust plank of the Democratic platform, $175,000; F. A. Croker, $3,600; E. D. Croker, $3,500; L. J. Croker, $1,000; E. R. Carroll, $10,000.

At the Chicago trust conference, Sept. 16, 1899, Mr. Bryan said:

"I want to start with the declaration that a monopoly in private hands is indefensible from any standpoint, and intolerable. I make no exceptions to the rule."

Now let Mr. Bryan denounce the Democratic ice trust.

HANNA AND HIS MEN.

Here is a Little Bit of History That William Jennings Bryan Don't Quote.

Lisbon, in common with other parts of Columbiana county, has good reason to kindly remember Marcus A. Hanna. He has always been a just, humane and merciful employer of workmen, and is a steadfast believer in a fair day's wage for a fair day's work. There are some splendid citizens of East Liverpool who glory in the fact that he is their personal friend:

The Bryanites have been holding up Mark Hanna as a great ogre, whose only object in life was to crush the life out of some workingman and get a few dollars for the remains. At last Mr. Hanna has said a word in self-defense, and this is what he says:

"I never lied to my men, and I never refused my men what was justly due them. I am president of a mine up in Lake Superior, where 2,000 men are employed. Four years ago Mr. Bryan went up there to tell the miners what a terrible man I was. I ordered the mine shut down for half a day—but did not shut off the pay—and told my men to go and see Bryan. They turned their backs on him and went home. Later they sent me resolutions to the effect that they were glad they had a chance to resent the insult that had been offered me on my own property."

Mr. Hanna is satisfied to let it go at that, and it would seem as if he could afford to.

THE MISSIONARY SOCIETY MISSING

Late Eliza Porter Left Property to the Church and Money to Society,

BUT SOCIETY CAN'T BE FOUND

Board of Foreign Missions Wants the Cash and Executor Is In a Quandary.

THE NEWS OF THE COURTS

Lisbon, Oct. 23.—(Special.)—The estate of the late Eliza Porter, of Homeworth, is now in litigation.

Mrs. Porter died two months ago at the age of 78 years, leaving by will a house and lot in Homeworth to the Presbyterian church and provided that the remainder of her estate go to the missionary society.

Joseph Johnson, executor of the estate, filed the suit against John Johnson and about 25 other legal heirs. He has stated to the court that after diligent search he has failed to learn of the existence of such a society and that the board of foreign missions of the Presbyterian church of the United States of America claims to be the legatee, which was intended by the testator.

The personal property amounts to nearly $4,000 and the executor wanted the court to put a special conception on that clause of the will.

F. A. Shoemaker, of Leetonia, came into court just before adjournment last evening and entered a plea of guilty of having furnished liquor to minor girls.

He entered the plea, he said, because he had no money with which to fight the case. As it was his first offense Judge Hole was lenient and fined him $15 and costs, which he paid.

The case of Ohio versus James D. Smith was one assigned for hearing today, but last evening Judge Hole consented to pass the case until later in the term.

Smith is charged with non-support of a minor child, and the case was continued on a motion which stated the absence of an important witness for the defense, who is now in Brazil, Indiana.

The case of C. W. Richards, receiver of the Aetna Fire Association of Cincinnati, against Catherine Bright has been settled out of court. The sum of $113 41 was claimed by reason of a loan extended.

Judgment was entered in favor of the plaintiff in the case of James W. Reilly against John E. Dorman, of Wellsville, in the sum of $512 86 due on a note.

A SOUTHERN MAN

Writes a Local Firm in Regard to the Splendid Republican Times.

There has been much complaint to the potteries recently about the slow shipments, principally from the south in the Democratic part of the United States.

Yesterday a firm received a letter from one of their southern agents registering a kick. He said he was aware they were considerably cramped on account of the McKinley prosperity and closed by saying:

"I am afraid if we re-elect McKinley we will be compelled to elect Bryan in 1904 in order to get relief."

The local firm agrees with their agent, but are satisfied to have no change in the administration for another four years.

Uncle Tom's Cabin.

A treat is in store for lovers of that ever-lasting success, Uncle Tom's Cabin, which comes to the Grand Saturday evening, Oct. 27.

It will be presented by Al W. Martin's big company of 60 white and colored people, and with thousands of dollars' worth of beautiful scenery and effects. Over 50 people are utilized in the production, and the cast is in the hands of competent actors. Every stick of scenery used from the rise to the fall of the curtain is carried by the company, and several of the settings are worthy of more than passing comment. Notable among them is the St. Clair home, showing a tropical garden, with its fragrant magnolia and orange trees, among which nestles the typical southern plantation residence, the home of little Eva. Legree's cotton plantation on the Red river with the cotton in full bloom. The wild rocky pass in southern Ohio, and the ice-choked Ohio river by moonlight. The transformation, entitled "The Celestial City," is said to be the most magnificent tableau ever conceived. Matinee prices, 10 and 25 cents. Evening, 10, 20, 30 and 50 cents.

Life's a Sack Race

To a sick man. He's hobbled, hampered, handicapped by his sickness. Every little while he has to lay off for a day.

He can't get ahead. Every body passes him in the struggle for success. His sickness originates in a diseased condition of the stomach (and most sickness does) there's a cure for it. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is not a cure-all, but a medicine specially designed to cure diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. It cures many forms of disease, because many forms of disease originate in a diseased condition of the stomach and digestive and nutritive system.

"I write to tell you of the great benefit I have received from the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," writes Mr. G. B. Bird, of Byrnside, Putnam County, West Va. "It cured me of a very bad case of indigestion associated with torpid liver. Before I began the use of 'Golden Medical Discovery' I had no appetite; could not sleep or work but very little. Miners Attacked at a Wilkesbarre Washery.

SEVERAL PERSONS WERE WOUNDED

Three Were Fired—Bullet Just Grazed Ear of a Coal and Iron Policeman. Poles Beaten For Objecting to Being Called "Scabs."

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 23.—Another riot occurred at the Stanton washery of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal company. When the workmen started to go to their homes under the protection of coal and iron police fully 5,000 people had gathered. A telephone message was sent to police headquarters in this city for help, and Chief of Police Kline and a number of officers responded.

The men who had been at work were put on board a small mine locomotive, but before the locomotive could get under way someone fired. The police returned the fire, but no one was struck. Another volley from the windows of some houses followed. Every pane of glass in the cab of the locomotive was broken, but no one was wounded. Two of the workmen on the locomotive jumped off and were knocked down and kicked, but were rescued by the police. The names of the injured men are: Bradley Hoffman and John Delinski, the latter being so badly injured that he had to be taken to Mercy hospital.

As the officers were returning to headquarters the electric car on which they rode was stoned, all the windows on one side of the car broken and Police Sergeant Hall and two other passengers slightly injured. Mayor Nichols soon reached the scene and warned the mob that they were doing the cause of labor more injury than good. He said the law would be upheld, and he was there to help uphold it. The mayor's speech had a good effect and the mob slowly dispersed to their homes.

Previously a riot occurred at the above mentioned works. A gang of men was going to work to screen coal on the bank of the Empire mine, to be used to keep water pumped out, when they were set upon by a mob of men, women and boys. John J. O'Hara, foreman of the gang, was knocked down with a stone and his nose fractured. He had to run away to escape with his life. Other workmen were slightly injured.

During the melee three shots were fired. One bullet grazed the ear of Coal and Iron Policeman H. C. Mc Carrell. The mob destroyed all the tools of the workmen.

A number of Polanders who have been working at the West End Coal company's colliery at Mocanaqua were held up by some strikers and their sympathizers, who called the Poles "scabs." The foreigners attempted to resent the insult, but they had to retreat under a shower of stones. One man was badly cut on the head.

Mayor Nichols is seriously considering a proposition to arm the police force with guns, so that they will be able to cope with a mob should they be called upon to quell a riot.

MITCHELL ENCOURAGED.

He Says There Is Prospect of an Early Settlement—What He Believes Miners Will Accept.

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 23.—President Mitchell, in an interview, said: "The prospect of an early settlement of the coal strike is becoming brighter. Some of the operators who have not posted notices signifying their willingness to fall in line either with the Reading company or with the proposition made by the Lehigh Valley company in the Hazleton region. If all of them notify their employees by posting notices or otherwise that an actual advance of 10 per cent will be paid each mine employee and guarantee its continuance until April 1, together with the abolition of the sliding scale, I believe that the terms would be accepted by the mine workers. The reduction in powder from $2.75 to $1.50 has confused the minds of the miners, but some of the operators have so fully explained how contract miners could receive the full advance of 10 per cent as well as other employees that I believe that this obstacle can be overcome."

Some of the coal companies are showing a disposition not to issue a second notice guaranteeing the payment of the 10 per cent increase in wages until April. Among these are the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western and the Delaware and Hudson, the officials of both companies are reported to have declined to issue supplemental notice. The labor leaders, however, hope that the companies will in some way make known that they will guarantee the payment of the advance until April 1. As soon as all the notices guaranteeing the payment of the advance until April 1 are posted, President Mitchell will call a meeting of the national executive board, at which it is believed the strike will be declared off.

A large labor demonstration took place here. Nearly 7,000 miners paraded the streets. In a carriage at their head rode President Mitchell, who received an enthusiastic ovation all along the line of march. Thousands of people came to the city to view the parade.

President Mitchell reviewed the parade at the end of the route, after which a mass meeting was held, at which President Mitchell was the principal speaker. He said that the strike was in such a peculiar position that it was hard to outline just what the result would be. He believed the time was not far distant, however, when every mine would be in operation and that the men now had practically won the strike.

President Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers, in an interview at Hazleton, Pa., said that if all the companies would notify their employees that an actual advance of 10 per cent will be guaranteed till April 1, and that the sliding scale will be abolished, he believed the terms would be accepted by the mine workers.

METHODIST CONVENTION.

Devotional Exercises, Opened—Pennsylvania State Meeting in Grace Church, Harrisburg.

Harrisburg, Oct. 23.—The Pennsylvania state convention of the Methodist Episcopal churches opened in Grace church with devotional exercises, conducted by Rev. Dr. S. H. Prather, of Titusville. Addresses of welcome were made by Governor Stone, Rev. Dr. J. Wesley Hill and Dr. Ezra H. Yocum. Responses were made by Geo. P. Hukill, of Oil City; Rev. L. L. Sprague, of Kingston, and ex-Governor Robert E. Pattison, of Philadelphia.

Each charge in the various conferences of the state is entitled to a delegate, and it is expected that there will be 1,000 ministerial and lay representatives present during the convention. Bishop Cyrus Foss will preach at today's session, after which a permanent organization will be effected. Governor and Mrs. Stone will tender an informal reception to the delegates this afternoon at the executive mansion.

Hard to do housework with an aching back.

Hours of misery at leisure or at work.

If women only knew the cause;

Backache pains come from sick kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills will cure it.

East Liverpool people endorse this.

Mrs. Mary Hewitt, of St. George street, says: "I read in the Pittsburgh Press an account of some one who had been cured of kidney complaint in that city from using Doan's Kidney Pills. The fact of such an account being published of one living in almost the same place had a tendency to convince me that there must be some truth in it, and I determined to try them myself. Some years before this I had a severe attack of rheumatism; for three months I lay helpless, and after that I had trouble with my kidneys. For a year I suffered severely. My back was so bad that it felt as if I had a boil where the kidneys are. I could not bend, lean back against a chair or reach up. I could not lie on my back, and about every move I made caused me pain. I had taken numerous remedies, but none brought the desired relief. Well, Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at the W. & W. pharmacy, did what no other remedy was able to do. I took them regularly for a short time and found them to be all that the Pittsburgh paper stated them to be. I can heartily recommend them. After using them I was rid of backache and other symptoms of kidney trouble."

Secretary Hay Expresses Approval of the Anglo-German Agreement in Regard to China.

Washington, Oct. 23.—The German charge d'affaires, Count de Quad, had a conference with Secretary Hay, presenting officially the text of the Anglo-German agreement, including the invitation to the United States to accept the principles therein recorded. Mr. Hay expressed his satisfaction at what had been done, saying he felt it to be in complete harmony with the policy this government had pursued, both as to the maintenance of unobstructed commerce in China and the territorial entity of the empire, and adding that a formal reply would be given in a day or two.

Before receiving the official invitation from Germany, Mr. Hay had been fully advised of the agreement, and had gone over it with great care with the president Sunday and Monday. This was the more necessary, owing to the president's departure for Canton last night. The result of these deliberations is summed up in the statement that the government views the Anglo-German agreement with favor. It is also probable that some attention has been given to the draft of the American reply. It is likely to be in the form of a note of approval rather than any formal adherence to the alliance.

About the only serious question which has arisen as to the American reply was on clause 3 of the Anglo-German agreement. This states that in case of another power making use of the complications in China in order to obtain territorial advantages, Germany and Great Britain reserve the right to reach a preliminary understanding on the eventual step to be taken for the protection of their interests. This is open to the construction of being a threat against other powers, and there was no desire on the part of officials here to give American adherence to anything in the nature of a threat. It is probable that the American reply will not go beyond accepting the principle that Germany and Great Britain have a right to agree between themselves as to their eventual course.

Mayor Nichols is seriously considering a proposition to arm the police force with guns, so that they will be able to cope with a mob, should they be called upon to quell a riot.

MITCHELL ENCOURAGED.

He Says There Is Prospect of an Early Settlement—What He Believes Miners Will Accept.

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 23.—President Mitchell, in an interview, said:

"The prospect of an early settlement of the coal strike is becoming brighter. Some of the operators who have not posted notices signifying their willingness to fall in line either with the Reading company or with the proposition made by the Lehigh Valley company in the Hazleton region. If all of them notify their employees by posting notices or otherwise that an actual advance of 10 per cent will be paid each mine employe and guarantee its continuance until April 1, together with the abolition of the sliding scale, I believe that the terms would be accepted by the mine workers. The reduction in powder from $2.75 to $1.50 has confused the minds of the miners, but some of the operators have so fully explained how contract miners could receive the full advance of 10 per cent as well as other employes that I believe that this obstacle can be overcome."

Some of the coal companies are showing a disposition not to issue a second notice guaranteeing the payment of the 10 per cent increase in wages until April. Among these are the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western and the Delaware and Hudson, the officials of both companies are reported to have declined to issue supplemental notice. The labor leaders, however, hope that the companies will in some way make known that they will guarantee the payment of the advance until April 1. As soon as all the notices guaranteeing the payment of the advance until April 1 are posted, President Mitchell will call a meeting of the national executive board, at which it is believed the strike will be declared off.

A large labor demonstration took place here. Nearly 7,000 miners paraded the streets. In a carriage at their head rode President Mitchell, who received an enthusiastic ovation all along the line of march. Thousands of people came to the city to view the parade.

President Mitchell reviewed the parade at the end of the route, after which a mass meeting was held, at which President Mitchell was the principal speaker. He said that the strike was in such a peculiar position that it was hard to outline just what the result would be. He believed the time was not far distant, however, when every mine would be in operation and that the men now had practically won the strike.

President Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers, in an interview at Hazleton, Pa., said that if all the companies would notify their employes that an actual advance of 10 per cent will be guaranteed till April 1, and that the sliding scale will be abolished, he believed the terms would be accepted by the mine workers.

Devotional Exercises, Opened—Pennsylvania State Meeting In Grace Church, Harrisburg.

Harrisburg, Oct. 23.—The Pennsylvania state convention of the Methodist Episcopal churches opened in Grace church with devotional exercises, conducted by Rev. Dr. S. H. Prattner, of Titusville. Addresses of welcome were made by Governor Stone, Rev. Dr. J. Wesley Hill and Dr. Ezra H. Yocum. Responses were made by Geo. P. Hukill, of Oil City; Rev. L. L. Sprague, of Kingston, and ex-Governor Robert E. Pattison, of Philadelphia.

Each charge in the various conferences of the state is entitled to a delegate, and it is expected that there will be 1,000 ministerial and lay representatives present during the convention. Bishop Cyrus Foss will preach at today's session, after which a permanent organization will be effected. Governor and Mrs. Stone will tender an informal reception to the delegates this afternoon at the executive mansion.

Hard to do housework with an aching back.

Hours of misery at leisure or at work.

If women only knew the cause; Backache pains come from sick kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills will cure it. East Liverpool people endorse this.

Mrs. Mary Hewitt, of St. George street, says: "I read in the Pittsburgh Press an account of some one who had been cured of kidney complaint in that city from using Doan's Kidney Pills. The fact of such an account being published of one living in almost the same place had a tendency to convince me that there must be some truth in it, and I determined to try them myself. Some years before this I had a severe attack of rheumatism; for three months I lay helpless, and after that I had trouble with my kidneys. For a year I suffered severely. My back was so bad that it felt as if I had a ball where the kidneys are. I could not bend, lean back against a chair or reach up. I could not lie on my back, and about every move I made caused me pain. I had taken numerous remedies, but none brought the desired relief. Well, Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at the W. & W. pharmacy, did what no other remedy was able to do. I took them regularly for a short time and found them to be all that the Pittsburgh paper stated them to be. I can heartily recommend them. After using them I was rid of backache and other symptoms of kidney trouble."

Secretary Hay Expresses Approval of the Anglo-German Agreement In Regard to China.

Washington, Oct. 23.—The German charge d'affaires, Count de Quadt, had a conference with Secretary Hay, presenting officially the text of the Anglo-German agreement, including the invitation to the United States to accept the principles therein recorded. Mr. Hay expressed his satisfaction at what had been done, saying he felt it to be in complete harmony with the policy this government had pursued, both as to the maintenance of unobstructed commerce in China and the territorial entity of the empire, and adding that a formal reply would be given in a day or two.

Before receiving the official invitation from Germany, Mr. Hay had been fully advised of the agreement, and had gone over it with great care with the president Sunday and Monday. This was the more necessary, owing to the president's departure for Canton last night. The result of these deliberations is summed up in the statement that the government views the Anglo-German agreement with favor. It is also probable that some attention has been given to the draft of the American reply. It is likely to be in the form of a note of approval rather than any formal adherence to the alliance.

About the only serious question which has arisen as to the American reply was on clause 3 of the Anglo-German agreement. This states that in case of another power making use of the complications in China in order to obtain territorial advantages, Germany and Great Britain reserve the right to reach a preliminary understanding on the eventual step to be taken for the protection of their interests. This is open to the construction of being a threat against other powers, and there was no desire on the part of officials here to give American adherence to anything in the nature of a threat. It is probable that the American reply will not go beyond accepting the principle that Germany and Great Britain have a right to agree between themselves as to their eventual course.

SERIOUS RIOTS OCCUR

Miners Attacked at a Wilkesbarre Washery.

SEVERAL PERSONS WERE WOUNDED

Shots Were Fired—Bullet Just Grazed Side of a Coal and Iron Policeman. Poles Beaten For Objecting to Being Called "Scabs."

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 23.—Another riot occurred at the Stanton washery of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal company. When the workmen started to go to their homes under the protection of coal and iron police fully 5,000 people had gathered. A telephone message was sent to police headquarters in this city for help, and Chief of Police Kline and a number of officers responded.

The men who had been at work were put on board a small mine locomotive, but before the locomotive could get under way someone fired. The police returned the fire, but no one was struck. Another volley from the windows of some houses followed. Every pane of glass in the cab of the locomotive was broken, but no one was wounded. Two of the workmen on the locomotive jumped off and were knocked down and kicked, but were rescued by the police. The names of the injured men are: Bradley Hoffman and John Delinski, the latter being so badly injured that he had to be taken to Mercy hospital.

As the officers were returning to headquarters the electric car on which they rode was stoned, all the windows on one side of the car broken and Police Sergeant Hall and two other passengers slightly injured. Mayor Nichols soon reached the scene and warned the mob that they were doing the cause of labor more injury than good. He said the law would be upheld, and he was there to help uphold it. The mayor's speech had a good effect and the mob slowly dispersed to their homes.

Previously a riot occurred at the above mentioned works. A gang of men was going to work to screen coal on the bank of the Empire mine, to be used to keep water pumped out, when they were set upon by a mob of men, women and boys. John J. O'Hara, foreman of the gang, was knocked down with a stone and his nose fractured. He had to run away to escape with his life. Other workmen were slightly injured.

During the melee three shots were fired. One bullet grazed the ear of Coal and Iron Policeman H. C. McCarrell. The mob destroyed all the tools of the workmen.

A number of Polanders who have been working at the West End Coal company's colliery at Mocanaqua were held up by some strikers and their sympathizers, who called the Poles "scabs." The foreigners attempted to resent the insult, but they had to retreat under a shower of stones. One man was badly cut on the head.

Mayor Nichols is seriously considering a proposition to arm the police force with guns, so that they will be able to cope with a mob, should they be called upon to quell a riot.

BRYAN ON GOLD STANDARD.

"If there is any one who believes the gold standard is a good thing, or that it must be maintained, I warn him not to cast his vote for me, because I promise him it will not be maintained in this country longer than I am able to get rid of it."

This language was used by Hon. William Jennings Bryan in a speech at Knoxville, Tenn., on September 16, 1896.

BEWARE.

Get on to the trick of the local Democracy. They are working the policy of having all Democrats who will not vote for Bryan, under any circumstances, cast their ballots for John G. Woolley. You do your full duty; vote the Republican ticket straight, with your nice little cross right under the eagle.

GO HEAR SELLS.

Don't fail to go to the wigwam tonight and hear what the eloquent Republican workingman has to say respecting McKinley and Roosevelt and the prosperous condition of the country under Republican rule. Mr. Sells is a pleasant and able speaker, and you will be well repaid for an hour spent in his company. Honest money

Democrats, losing sight of prejudice and partisanship, and longing for continued prosperity, have a special invitation to this meeting.

DON DICKINSON.

Don M. Dickinson, postmaster general under Grover Cleveland's administration, comes out for McKinley and Roosevelt, and roundly scores Bryan, stating that the latter does nothing but indulge in fault finding against better men than himself, and advocates no settled plan or form of government. Don is right. Bryan is simply a loud mouthed demagogue.

BRYAN AND TRUSTS.

Read article in another column headed "Bryan Guilty of Inconsistency." How any sane voter can adhere to and cast his ballot for such a dealer in vagaries, gossamer tissue theories and abnormal visions is beyond the ken of sensible men. Surely William Jennings Bryan well deserves the titles of "buncombe declaimer," "Nebraska visionary" and "Calamity Howler." A nice representative to place in the presidential chair of this great and powerful nation. Such a fellow would make us the laughing stock of the civilized world.

THANK YOU.

Some time since the wife of the writer desired to send a box of second-hand clothing, underwear and shoes to needy colored folks in the southland. The lady wanted good and clean garments. She made announcement in these columns of her desire, and quick response came from Good Samaritans, noble men and women of East Liverpool. One large barrel, packed to the limit, has gone to the needy ones, freight prepaid. Another barrel will follow soon. God will give you your reward in due time, friends, in time and in eternity. "Even as ye did it unto one of the least of these, my little ones, ye did it unto me." Other gifts of like character will be acceptable. Do you want a share of the blessing?

A GLORIOUS TRINITY.

The Filipinos term the following delectable triplets a "glorious trinity." "Rizal, Bryan and Aguinaldo." What think ye of this, ye fathers and mothers whose sons rest in death in Cuba, brave followers of gallant and heroic leaders? What think ye of this, you who have loved ones doing battle for the country in the ranks at the Philippines or far distant China? What think ye, all men and women who love and honor and venerate Old Glory and the principles of freedom and right advocated wherever the dear old flag floats? The insurgents in the Philippines term Bill Bryan one of their patron saints. He should, by all sense of right and justice, be proclaimed a traitor to his country, giving aid and sympathy to a foreign foe, and like Vallandigham of old, be sent out to the tender care of the savages of Luzon. The south sickened on Vallandigham and would have none of him; and the bolo men of the Philippines would do the same with Calamity Howler Bryan when they formed his closer and more intimate acquaintance. Bryan and Stevenson? They are truly a delectable pair; the first the traducer and slanderer of Uncle Sam's soldiers now on duty—the latter the traducer and slanderer of Abraham Lincoln and the boys in blue of the civil war. Cover this pill with sugar and spices, and the bitterness is still in full evidence on the palates of all loyal men in the nation. These are plain words; but they are true accusations, backed by undeniable facts, and the truth should be told plainly in all such emergencies.

YOUR BALLOT.

Workingmen of East Liverpool and Columbiana county, no matter to what party you may have belonged or voted with and for in the past, you will do well to carefully and calmly consider the present situation, and then compare it with the situation which existed four years ago, and for three and a half years previous to that time, when Democracy had full control of the government. You know that Democratic rule caused men to be idle on every hand, who had never been idle before; honest and square men, willing to do any honorable work in order that they might win a living and supply the needs of wife and children; and you know that they could not obtain any kind of employment, not even as day laborers, at $1 per day; and you know that good men and true, and their wives and children, were sustained by the hand of charity and were fed at soup houses; and all this after wonderful promises of prosperity and good wages if the voters would but trust the Democrats with full power. And you also know that, about three years and seven months ago, you placed your old-time congressman and governor, William McKinley, in the presidential chair, he promising to do all within human power to promote your welfare and the welfare of the nation. Under the blessing of Providence he has been enabled to keep and fulfill that promise, as has been his record in civil and political life all the way through, and the result is that you and me have had wonderfully prosperous times, good work, good wages, plenty and contentment at home. Surely your own interests demand that you shall continue in power for another four years the man who has so faithfully served you, and who has fulfilled every promise made to you. Cast your ballot on November 6, 1900, for McKinley, Roosevelt and the entire Republican ticket, and enjoy four years more of prosperity.

A Prominent Democrat Tells Why They Can't Get D. B. Hill Here.

The Democrats of this city were very anxious to have Hon. D. B. Hill speak here during the campaign, but have given up hope of securing him.

One prominent Democrat aptly covered the situation when he said: "The state committee realize there is no use sending speakers here. This town is almost solid for McKinley and Roosevelt and speakers cannot change it."

Prison Sunday.

Secretary Byers, of the state board of charities, has mailed letters calling attention to the fact that October 23 will be observed as prison Sunday, and asking that so far as possible all ministers in the state set aside this day for the consideration of those interests of the community, which are connected with the wise treatment of the criminal. The board will furnish all the literature asked for on the subject.

GEORGE KNOWLES FILED NEW SUIT

Wants $1,200 Damages by Reason of a Change of Grade on Avondale Street.

RETAINING WALL COST MONEY

Grade Nine Years Ago Was Unreasonable; but the Last Grade Was Too Much.

WILL WORK ON THE STREETS

Lisbon, Oct. 23.—(Special.)—The case of George Knowles against the city of East Liverpool has again been instituted in court. Knowles claims that he has a $1,200 damage case against the city by reason of what he claims to be the unreasonable grade established two years ago on Avondale street in front of two lots fronting on the street in M. R. McKinnon's addition to the city on which he has erected two dwelling houses.

The first grade was established nine years ago, which he said was unreasonable, but when the last cut was made lowering the street two feet more he thought that his rights as a citizen had been disregarded and he sued for damages.

He claims that his property has been impaired in value and that he was caused great expense in building a retaining wall.

The first suit filed was knocked out by a technicality several weeks ago when a demurrer was sustained dismissing the action.

JUDGE DECIDES

HE WILL NOT HOLD COURT OUTSIDE OF COUNTY SEAT.

Submitted a Very Lengthy Opinion in Which He Gave His Reasons.

Judge Hole in a lengthy decision today announced that he would not hold court outside of Lisbon.

He stated that he had received petitions from Salem, Wellsville, Salineville and East Palestine and had presented them at a meeting of the Ninth Judicial district. The judges were unanimous that the judge could not hold court outside of the county seat and decisions rendered at such time were unlawful.

BRYAN ON GOLD STANDARD.

"If there is any one who believes the gold standard is a good thing, or that it must be maintained, I warn him not to cast his vote for me, because I promise him it will not be maintained in this country longer than I am able to get rid of it."

This language was used by Hon. William Jennings Bryan in a speech at Knoxville, Tenn., on September 16, 1896.

BEWARE.

Get on to the trick of the local Democracy. They are working the policy of having all Democrats who will not vote for Bryan, under any circumstances, cast their ballots for John G. Woolley. You do your full duty; vote the Republican ticket straight, with your nice little cross right under the eagle.

GO HEAR SELLS.

Don't fail to go to the wigwam tonight and hear what the eloquent Republican workingman has to say respecting McKinley and Roosevelt and the prosperous condition of the country under Republican rule. Mr. Sells is a pleasant and able speaker, and you will be well repaid for an hour spent in his company. Honest money

Democrats, losing sight of prejudice and partisanship, and longing for continued prosperity, have a special invitation to this meeting.

DON DICKINSON.

Don M. Dickinson, postmaster general under Grover Cleveland's administration, comes out for McKinley and Roosevelt, and roundly scores Bryan, stating that the latter does nothing but indulge in fault finding against better men than himself, and advocates no settled plan or form of government. Don is right. Bryan is simply a loud mouthed demagogue.

BRYAN AND TRUSTS.

Read article in another column headed "Bryan Guilty of Inconsistency." How any sane voter can adhere to and cast his ballot for such a dealer in vagaries, gossamer tissue theories and abnormal visions is beyond the ken of sensible men. Surely William Jennings Bryan well deserves the titles of "buncombe declaimer," "Nebraska visionary" and "Calamity Howler." A nice representative to place in the presidential chair of this great and powerful nation. Such a fellow would make us the laughing stock of the civilized world.

THANK YOU.

Some time since the wife of the writer desired to send a box of second-hand clothing, underwear and shoes to needy colored folks in the southland. The lady wanted good and clean garments. She made announcement in these columns of her desire, and quick response came from Good Samaritans, noble men and women of East Liverpool. One large barrel, packed to the limit, has gone to the needy ones, freight prepaid. Another barrel will follow soon. God will give you your reward in due time, friends, in time and in eternity. "Even as ye did it unto one of the least of these, my little ones, ye did it unto me." Other gifts of like character will be acceptable. Do you want a share of the blessing?

A GLORIOUS TRINITY.

The Filipinos term the following delectable triplets a "glorious trinity:" "Rizal, Bryan and Aguinaldo." What think ye of this, ye fathers and mothers whose sons rest in death in Cuba, brave followers of gallant and heroic leaders? What think ye of this, you who have loved ones doing battle for the country in the ranks at the Philippines or far distant China? What think ye, all men and women who love and honor and venerate Old Glory and the principles of freedom and right advocated wherever the dear old flag floats? The insurgents in the Philippines term Bill Bryan one of their patron saints. He should, by all sense of right and justice, be proclaimed a traitor to his country, giving aid and sympathy to a foreign foe, and like Vallandigham of old, be sent out to the tender care of the savages of Luzon. The south sickened on Vallandigham and would have none of him; and the bolo men of the Philippines would do the same with Calamity Howler Bryan when they formed his closer and more intimate acquaintance. Bryan and Stevenson? They are truly a delectable pair; the first the traducer and slanderer of Uncle Sam's soldiers now on duty—the latter the traducer and slanderer of Abraham Lincoln and the boys in blue of the civil war. Cover this pill with sugar and spices, and the bitterness is still in full evidence on the palates of all loyal men in the nation. These are plain words; but they are true accusations, backed by undeniable facts, and the truth should be told plainly in all such emergencies.

THOMAS LEITH DIDN'T GET IT

Judge Hole Was of the Opinion
That He Didn't Have Sufficient Grounds

TO BE GRANTED A DIVORCE

Her Request For Alimony Was
Also Refused and Leith
Must Pay All

THE COSTS IN THE TWO CASES

Lisbon, Oct. 23.—(Special.)—Judge Hole rendered his decision this morning in the divorce and alimony case of Thomas J. Leith against Belle Leith, of Wellsville, refusing both the divorce to the husband and alimony to the wife, assessing all costs on Leith.

The court held with Judge Boone that there was no evidence of intellectual aberration on the part of Mrs. Leith, and that she was sufficiently sane to understand the duties of a wife.

However, in this state Judge Hole held her failure to live with the plaintiff in this relation for a period of three years does not constitute wilful absence. The charge against her of neglect of duty was in part sustained, although not in a degree to warrant a legal separation.

The court held that her conduct actuated wholly by her perverted view of religion is no excuse for her living apart from her husband, although during the first 25 years of their married life she performed all of her duties as a wife, and up to the time of her abandonment kept his house and prepared his meals for him.

Mrs. Leith wanted a decree for alimony on grounds of cruelty and abandonment. Her refusal, the court held, to leave Wellsville and go with her husband to Bellaire in May, 1899, constituted wilful absence on her part, and by the decision Leith was never guilty of abuse.

Mrs. Leith has given notice of her intention to appeal to circuit court.

SHAMEFUL.

This Father of a Fine Family Has No
True Sense of the Eternal Fitness
of Life.

"He has a noble wife and a family beyond reproach. He has beautiful and charming and cultured daughters. He has a home which should be a paradise upon earth. And happiness and peace and contentment would dwell within the home circle were it not for the fact that the scarlet women of East Liverpool have led astray the man who should have been the protector of that wife and the support of his children. He is well known in this city and calls himself a man of decision of character and strong will, when his actions declare him as weak and unstable as water and utterly lacking in the essentials which constitute a true man and a good citizen. He fondly imagines that his evil life is known but to a few, and that they will not dare to expose him. Let him beware. Forbearance will ere long cease to be a virtue in his case, and he will be held up to the scorn of all decent and respectable people."

SOUTH SIDE.

NEED PROTECTION.

Scarlet Fever Has Made Its Appearance in the Village of Chester.

Chester is just now very badly in need of some sort of regulation to protect the town against the danger from contagious diseases.

Leo, a small son of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Hilliard, of Carolina, went home from school ill. Dr. W. R. Clark, of East Liverpool, was summoned did not hesitate in pronouncing the case scarlet fever.

The case in question is not reported as a dangerous one, but at the same time it might be the cause of an epidemic in this community and there is no doubt that this would result disastrously, as there is no active health authorities in the community.

Inquiries made at various points developed the fact that some of the best informed citizens knew of the existence of a board of health and thought the matter should be in the hands of some one who would look after it, not a single resident approached on the subject knew who they were and how they had been selected.

Several prominent citizens expressed their determination to agitate the question until action of some sort is taken.

As matters now stand much alarm is felt by those in charge of the schools, as another member of the Hilliard family was taken from school and six other pupils have quit.

CUNNINGHAM SHOT.

The Disastrous End of a Hunting Trip
Which Was Taken
Yesterday.

Harvey Allison, James McKinnon and John Cunningham went hunting south of town yesterday and in some manner became separated. Not long afterward Allison and Cunningham were coming down on opposite sides of a small ravine when Allison sighted a squirrel. He took aim and not perceiving Cunningham fired. The load took effect in Cunningham's right arm between the elbow and shoulder, inflicting a very painful wound.

He was brought to his home in Chester where the wound was dressed and the gentleman made as comfortable as possible. He is resting easy today.

He Used Turpentine.

Enoch Riley, a packer employed in one of the Liverpool potteries, had a sore hand, and yesterday put a quantity of turpentine on the injury. He was in the act of lighting his pipe afterward when the turpentine ignited, burning the fingers of both hands severely.

A Good Attendance.

A good attendance was present at the Democratic meeting held at Rock Springs last night. Two local members of the party from East Liverpool had an altercation near the Virginia end of the bridge, but friends interfered before the parties came to blows.

Burglars Were Fooled.

An attempt was made to rob the residence of Link Allison in Middle run one night last week during the owner's absence at prayer meeting. The effort was unsuccessful, but the affair had the effect of very badly frightening the ladies of the house.

Returned Home.

Tom Bambrick returned last evening from the east. He brought with him a blooded horse and the probabilities are that some hot races will be pulled off between him and James

THOMAS LEITH DIDN'T GET IT

Judge Hole Was of the Opinion
That He Didn't Have Sufficient Grounds

TO BE GRANTED A DIVORCE

Her Request For Alimony Was
Also Refused and Leith
Must Pay All

THE COSTS IN THE TWO CASES

Lisbon, Oct. 23.—(Special.)—Judge Hole rendered his decision this morning in the divorce and alimony case of Thomas J. Leith against Belle Leith, of Wellsville, refusing both the divorce to the husband and alimony to the wife, assessing all costs on Leith.

The court held with Judge Boone that there was no evidence of intellectual aberration on the part of Mrs. Leith, and that she was sufficiently sane to understand the duties of a wife.

However, in this state Judge Hole held her failure to live with the plaintiff in this relation for a period of three years does not constitute wilful absence. The charge against her of neglect of duty was in part sustained, although not in a degree to warrant a legal separation.

The court held that her conduct actuated wholly by her perverted view of religion is no excuse for her living apart from her husband, although during the first 25 years of their married life she performed all of her duties as a wife; and up to the time of her abandonment kept his house and prepared his meals for him.

Mrs. Leith wanted a decree for alimony on grounds of cruelty and abandonment. Her refusal, the court held, to leave Wellsville and go with her husband to Bellaire in May, 1899, constituted wilful absence on her part, and by the decision Leith was never guilty of abuse.

Mrs. Leith has given notice of her intention to appeal to circuit court.

SHAMEFUL.

This Father of a Fine Family Has No
True Sense of the Eternal Fitness
of Life.

"He has a noble wife and a family beyond reproach. He has beautiful and charming and cultured daughters. He has a home which should be a paradise upon earth. And happiness and peace and contentment would dwell within the home circle were it not for the fact that the scarlet women of East Liverpool have led astray the man who should have been the protector of that wife and the support of his children. He is well known in this city and calls himself a man of decision of character and strong will, when his actions declare him as weak and unstable as water and utterly lacking in the essentials which constitute a true man and a good citizen. He fondly imagines that his evil life is known but to a few, and that they will not dare to expose him. Let him beware. Forbearance will ere long cease to be a virtue in his case, and he will be held up to the scorn of all decent and respectable people."

SOUTH SIDE. NEED PROTECTION.

Scarlet Fever Has Made Its Appearance in the Village of Chester.

Chester is just now very badly in need of some sort of regulation to protect the town against the danger from contagious diseases.

Leo, a small son of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Hilliard, of Carolina, went home from school ill. Dr. W. R. Clark, of East Liverpool, was summoned did not hesitate in pronouncing the case scarlet fever.

The case in question is not reported as a dangerous one, but at the same time it might be the cause of an epidemic in this community and there is no doubt that this would result disastrously, as there is no active health authorities in the community.

Inquiries made at various points developed the fact that some of the best informed citizens knew of the existence of a board of health and thought the matter should be in the hands of some one who would look after it, not a single resident approached on the subject knew who they were and how they had been selected.

Several prominent citizens expressed their determination to agitate the question until action of some sort is taken.

As matters now stand much alarm is felt by those in charge of the schools, as another member of the Hilliard family was taken from school and six other pupils have quit.

DEATH OF SHERMAN.

His Demise Ascribed to Brain Exhaustion.

FUNERAL OCCURS TOMORROW.

Services to Be Held at His Late Residence, Conducted by Rev. Mackay Smith. Body to Be Taken to Mansfield, O., Where Services Will Occur Thursday.

Washington, Oct. 23.—Death came to the Hon. John Sherman in this city after almost 36 hours of nearly complete unconsciousness. During the last 15 hours of his life he was all the time unconscious, and passed away while in this condition. A number of relatives and friends who had assembled in Washington were at the bedside when the end came. The most devoted of them was Mrs. McCallum, the adopted daughter of the Secretary and Mrs. Sherman, who remained constantly at the bedside during the last hours.

Brain exhaustion was given as the cause of death.

Mr. Sherman's demise occurred in the handsome home on K street, which he had erected eight years ago.

He had held a prominent place in the legislative and administrative branches of the government for about 40 years.

The funeral arrangements, so far as they pertain to the services in Washington, will take place at the late residence of Mr. Sherman tomorrow afternoon about 1 o'clock. Rev. Mackay Smith, of St. John's Episcopal church, being the officiating clergyman. Immediately after the services the body will be taken to Mansfield, O., where the arrangements for the last sad rites have been left in the hands of Representative W. S. Kerr and other friends of the family. Services will be held Thursday probably in the Episcopal church usually attended by Mr. Sherman when at Mansfield, and the interment will be made on that afternoon in the family burial lot beside the grave of Mrs. Sherman. The party going from here will include relatives and friends and also representatives of the state and treasury departments.

The list of honorary pallbearers is still incomplete, but as far as those invited have accepted include the following: Secretary Gage, Justice Harlan, of the supreme court; Hon. John A. Kasson, Hon. J. C. Bancroft Davis, Hon. J. D. Cameron, Senator Hawley and M. M. Parker. The members of the cabinet now here will attend the services at the house, and President McKinley will go to Mansfield from Canton to attend the services there.

Of the large family of brothers and sisters originally comprising the Sherman family only two brothers survive.

Some weeks ago the secretary deeded the K street property to Mrs. McCallum. The secretary was a large holder of real estate in this city, having invested extensively in that line from time to time during his residence here. Conservative estimates of his wealth place it at a round million dollars, most of which is believed to consist of Washington real estate. Other investments consist of securities, and it is stated that the old family home at Mansfield, O., remained in his possession, notwithstanding reports that he had disposed of it prior to his return to Washington last month.

Mr. Sherman was well known about the streets of Washington. He was fond of walking, and in his later years he drove almost every afternoon in a large open carriage, accompanied until her death by Mrs. Sherman.

Following is a sketch of the dead man's life and career:

John Sherman was born at Lancaster, O., May 10, 1823. His paternal ancestors emigrated from the County of Essex, England, to New England. His grandfather, Taylor Sherman, of Norwalk, Conn., was an accomplished scholar and able jurist, who had a seat on the bench. He went to Ohio to settle some disputed boundary questions and located in Sherman township, Huron county. He married Elizabeth Stoddard, a Universal descendant of Anthony Stoddard, Charles R. Sherman, a son and the father of the distinguished statesman, was a native of Norwalk, Conn., where he was brought up and admitted to the bar. He married Mary Hoyt, also of Norwalk, and soon after practiced law at Lancaster, O., where he was chosen by the legislature to the supreme bench. He died suddenly at Lebanon, O., when John Sherman was 6 years old.

In the spring of 1831 an uncle of the future senator took the boy to his home at Mt. Vernon, where he remained for four years with only occasional visits to his mother. He attended the common school there and when 12 years of age was taken to Lancaster and attended the academy at that place. When he was far enough advanced in his studies to have entered the sophomore class at college he was tendered a position as junior rodman on the "Muskingum Improvement," with a corps of engineers engaged in constructing the Ohio system of canals. He began work with them at Lowell, O., and in the spring of 1833 was placed tempoorarily in charge of the work at Beverly, O., where he remained during the rest of his service with the engineers.

In 1838, the Whig party having lost the state election, he lost his place, and at once went to Mansfield, O., where he began to study law with his brother Charles. Here he regularly prepared the pleadings and did a good share of the office work. After the first year he was entirely self-supporting. May 11, 1844, he was admitted to the bar at Springfield, O., and forthwith entered into a partnership with his brother at Mansfield. After this he was employed in the practice of law until he was elected a member of congress in 1854. Shortly after his admission to the bar his mother and two sisters removed from Lancaster to Mansfield and kept house for him.

In 1846-47 Mr. Sherman went to Washington, where he remained a month and became acquainted with most of the great men of the day, among them being Stephen A. Douglass, of Illinois. In the spring of 1848 he was sent to the national Whig convention at Philadelphia as a delegate and was made secretary of that body. Mr. Sherman heartily supported the nomination of Zachary Taylor for the presidency, and canvassed a portion of Ohio for him.

August 30, 1848, Mr. Sherman married Cecilia, only daughter of Judge Stewart, of Mansfield. In 1852 he was a delegate to the national Whig convention at Baltimore, Md., and supported its nominee for president, General Winfield Scott. In 1853-4 he opened a law office at Cleveland, O. When the congressional anti-Nebraska convention came together great difficulties arose concerning fusion, the choice for a congressional candidate fell upon Sherman and he was elected. He was chairman of the first Ohio Republican state convention which nominated Salmon P. Chase for governor and participated also as a delegate in the formation of the Republican party at Philadelphia, after which he took his seat in the national congress six years before the breaking out of the Civil War. There was a fierce and prolonged struggle attendant upon the election of a speaker of this house, and Mr. Sherman finally declared his intention to vote for General N. P. Banks, because of his attitude toward slavery. Mr. Banks having said that the repeal of the Missouri Compromise would not give any advantage to the slave traffic if he could avoid it.

Mr. Sherman was appointed a member of the Kansas investigating committee with regard to the troubles there, and this appointment marked the turning point in his political career. Mr. Sherman, at the request of his colleagues, collected the testimony and formulated the report. When presented to congress it caused deep feeling and was the issue in the presidential campaign of 1856. In that campaign Mr. Sherman supported John C. Fremont for the presidency.

Bills appropriating public money were always closely scrutinized by Mr. Sherman, and by his close attention to the business of the house he became recognized toward the close of his second term as one of the foremost men in the body. In February, 1861, he first saw Abraham Lincoln, and the friendship between the two men formed at that time lasted until the death of the latter. When the Civil War broke out Mr. Sherman tendered his services as an aide-camp without pay until the meeting of the first war congress. He then had recruited at his own expense two companies of infantry, a squadron of cavalry and a battery of artillery.

When Salmon P. Chase resigned his seat as United States senator from Ohio in 1861 to accept a portfolio in Lincoln's cabinet Mr. Sherman was elected senator, and retained the seat during the war, although he strenuously desired to enlist and go to the front. He was a member of the senate committee on finance during the war, and had charge of those great measures which upheld the credit of the United States at home and abroad during that trying period. In the summer of 1862 he took charge of the national banking bill at the request of the secretary of the treasury, and made the only speech in the senate in its favor, although the bill was before that body for 10 days. After the war, when he had been re-elected senator, he was again chairman of the senate committee on finance, and his many brilliant financial successes as a member of that committee or its chairman for many years are well remembered. When the Credit Mobilier investigation was being made Mr. Sherman was attacked by many people, who said he had made much money during the war and must have made it improperly. He answered these attacks with proof to the contrary, and silenced his accusers.

In 1874 he initiated at Washington the movement for the resumption of specie payments, and was chosen to the United States senate for the third time. President Hayes was inaugurated March 4, 1877, and at once made Mr. Sherman secretary of the treasury. The latter took measures for the sale of bonds, and in other ways provided for the resumption of specie payments, against the croaking of financiers all over the country, and his success stamped him as one of the greatest financiers of the world. In 1877 he was again elected United States senator. In 1880 Mr. Sherman was a candidate for the Republican nomination for president of the United States, his name being presented to the convention by James A. Garfield, of Ohio, to whom the nomination finally went. Afterward Mr. Sherman charged that he had been deliberately cheated of the nomination. He was touted at later conventions as a possible candidate for president, but never attained his ambition in this direction, which is known to have embittered the last few years of his life. In 1892 he was chosen United States senator from Ohio, but resigned the seat in 1897 to become secretary of state in the cabinet of President McKinley. Ill-health compelled his retirement from that position in the spring of 1898, and he then retired from public life, vacillating between his summer home at Mansfield, O., and his winter residence at Washington.

Early in the present summer Mrs. Sherman died at the Mansfield home, after a very brief illness. The couple were childless, and adopted a daughter some years ago, who afterward married and resided at the Sherman house in Washington. During his entire public life Mr. Sherman maintained his home at Mansfield, O. There he was a familiar figure during the summer months, well known to every person in that city, and being an especial favorite of the children.

IN MEMORY OF SHERMAN.

Washington, Oct. 23.—The news of Mr. Sherman's death was immediately communicated to the president and secretary of state. The president at once directed that the white house be closed to visitors and that the flag over the executive mansion be placed at half-mast. He also ordered that some flowers be sent to the Sherman home, and then went there himself to express his sorrow to the bereaved family. Mrs. McKinley later drove to the Sherman home and left her card.

After a meeting of the cabinet the president issued the following proclamation to the people of the United States:

In the fullness of years and honors, John Sherman, lately secretary of state, has passed away. Few among our citizens have risen to greater or more deserved eminence in the national councils than he. The story of his public life and services is, as it were, the history of the country for half a century. In the congress of the United States he ranked among the foremost in the house, and later in the senate. He was twice a member of the executive cabinet, first as secretary of the treasury and afterward as secretary of state. Whether in debate during the dark hours of our Civil War, or as the director of the country's finances during the period of rehabilitation or as a trusted councillor in framing the nation's laws for over 40 years, or as the exponent of its foreign policy, his course was ever marked by devotion to the best interests of his beloved land, and by able and conscientious effort to uphold its dignity and honor. His countrymen will long revere his memory and see in him a type of the patriotism, the uprightness and the zeal that go to molding and strengthening a nation.

In fitting expression of the sense of bereavement that afflicts the republic, I direct that on the day of the funeral the executive offices of the United States display the national flag at half-mast, and that the representatives of the United States in foreign countries shall pay in like manner appropriate tribute to the illustrious dead for a period of 10 days.

SCORED BY ROOSEVELT

Men Who Annoyed Him Get Hot Replies.

HE DENIED ONE MAN'S CHARGE.

Declared He Had Not Called Democrats Cowards and Dishonest—Made Speeches in His Own State—Entertained at Home of Mr. Odell.

Kingston, N. Y., Oct. 23.—Governor Roosevelt finished the first day of his flying campaign through the state in Kingston after traveling 89 miles and making eight speeches, the longest being at Newburg and Kingston. At the former place, the home of the Republican candidate for governor, he talked to a vast assemblage, having to speak in two places. Spectators interrupted the speaker with questions, in every instance receiving a reply. At West Nyack, a man close to the car cried and reiterated, "Hurrah for Bryan!" and Mr. Roosevelt replied, "Why don't you hurrah for Altgeld and Aguinaldo?" The cheering ceased. Another called, "What about the ice trust?" and he answered, "This election will be decided by the patriots and men of sense in the country, who outnumber the junker shouters of your type. The ice trust will be attended to in a proper legal way."

A man in the crowd at Newburg said, in a low tone of voice, "Why did you call Democrats cowards and dishonest?" Roosevelt heard him and flung back quickly this characteristic reply, "It's a lie; I never said such a thing. It is Democrats—good Democrats—who will swell our majority."

Toward the end of his remarks at Newburg the governor was interrupted a number of times by some shouts of "What is the matter with Bryan?" "Down with trusts." Governor Roosevelt remarked, "That gentleman has all the symptoms of a Bryanite," which sally was greeted with laughter and applause. Then walking over to one side of the platform and speaking directly toward the point from which the shouts arose the governor said, "You look like one of those men who work exclusively with their mouths. What do you mean to do with the cotton bale trust of Mr. Jones or the ice trust of Mr. Croker?" (Cries of "What is the matter with Bryan? He's all right.") "That is an argument of wind. (Great applause.) You are afraid to hear the truth; you interrupt this meeting because you are a hoodlum and nothing else. You represent the disorderly class that is naturally against us. You represent those people who naturally object to prosperity; you don't get any part of it, because you won't work. (Applause.) Now, then, go back to your fellow hoboos (applause) and learn after this (more yelling, and the man evidently turned to depart) that you stand against the flag, you haven't got a particle of patriotism in you. I am glad you are going away. I think you have learned enough hereafter not to monkey with the buzzsaw. (Long and continued applause.) Now, gentlemen, in the temporary absence of the local police, I have driven off that disturber of the meeting." (Applause.)

At Newburg the party was entertained at Mr. Odell's home.

NOMINATIONS DECLARED VALID.

Dauphin County (Pa.) Court Disposed of Certain Cases.

Harrisburg, Oct. 23.—The Dauphin county court disposed of the last of the election contests by declaring valid the certificates of Dr. Daniel P. Gerberich, candidate for senator, and Dr. Thomas T. Zerbe and Samuel Groh, candidates for assembly in Lebanon county, and declaring invalid the certificates of Robert S. Edmiston and Bradley W. Lewis, rival Republican candidates for senator in the Bradford-Wyoming division.

The certificates of John S. Lambing and George W. Spaulding, People's party candidates in the Second Erie assembly district, and Andrew J. Palm, John L. Wilson and L.D. Brown, People's party nominees for the assembly in Crawford county, were also declared valid.

John Wanamaker Spoke.

Pottstown, Oct. 23.—After an absence of two years from the political stump, John Wanamaker spoke here last night in the interests of the anti-machine legislative ticket of Montgomery county. He was greeted by a crowded house. He took occasion to say he was not a candidate for United States senator.

On the 6th day of November the voters will say "Let well enough alone."

Bryan Spoke in West Virginia. Huntington, W. Va., Oct. 23.—W. J. Bryan made speeches at several towns in this state and then left for Washington en route for Maryland, where he speaks today.

BRYAN FOR TAMMANY.

Crocker Has a Hard and Fast Alliance With Him.

CHIEF CROCKER RAN EVERYTHING.

On Bryan's Visit to New York City. Crocker Was His Guide and Escort at Every Stage of the Proceedings—Anxious to Handle New York Patronage.

The greatest and brightest day in Bryan's history came and went on Tuesday, October 16, with his gorgeous reception by Tammany hall in New York city. But the greater it was, the more glaring its evidence of a danger in his election, from the company that he keeps. He is in alliance with Crocker and Tammany. The Democratic organ of central Ohio, the Columbus Press-Post, of Monday, October 15, in a New York dispatch about the "rivalry of two New York hotels over the patronage of William Jennings Bryan," free of pay, said: "But Mr. Crocker stepped in and settled the matter, and Mr. Bryan will go to the Hoffman house." Mr. Richard Crocker was the "whole thing" that day and that night. One account says of Bryan that "Crocker took personal and almost absolute charge. He seemed afraid some one else might show the Democratic candidate attention and kept close at his side all the time. He met him at the Grand Central station when Mr. Bryan arrived in the afternoon and hardly left him for a minute from then on."

Crocker's pre-eminence in Bryan's company on that occasion was so conspicuous that the London Times correspondent in New York cabled his paper:

"Everything is done which the wit of man can devise to identify Crocker with Bryan, Bryan with Tammany, and Tammany with New York. What Crocker desires is to impress on the country at large the oneness of Tammany and the Democratic party throughout the United States, and the closeness of the political brotherhood between himself and the Democratic leader. * * * For Crocker's ambition, once limited to municipal objects, has grown to embrace New York state, in which he now controls the Democratic machine, and in the United States he has made good his foothold through the Kansas City national Democratic convention, and the party must accept the consequences of his ascendancy."

Another account of the banquet at "112 a plate exclusive of the wines," in the Louis XV. room of the Hoffman house, says that beside Bryan and Crocker and Adlai Stevenson, "there was not a Democrat of first rate size at the board. The Tammany outfit was very much in evidence. Where were all the big Democrats of New York? Where were Hill and Coler? Mr. Bryan was informed they had not been invited, and that their friends were angry about it." The ice trust was represented by Crocker, Mayor Van Wyck, Judge Van Wyck, and Carroll and Whalen, two of the directors. At Madison Square garden, Bryan was introduced by Edward Mr. Shepard, who that day appeared in court as attorney for the sugar trust. "All about him on the platform were members of the Tammany ice trust. Of the 200 vice presidents, 180 were Tammany officeholders. Of well-known Democrats of New York city and Brooklyn, as judges, lawyers and business men, not one was there, except Crocker and Shepard." That nobody may think that these are partisan statements, distorted in order to do injustice to Mr. Bryan, we submit herewith the following sentences from the Associated Press account, as printed in full by the Cincinnati Enquirer, adding in all only the half a dozen words needed to explain each quotation:

The crowd cheered and hallooed as Colonel Bryan stepped out on the platform. Then, escorted by Richard Crocker and the committee, he began the journey toward the street.

Richard Crocker sat next to him, while Mr. Hearst and Mr. Shevlin occupied the other two seats in the carriage.

The dinner tendered William J. Bryan at the Hoffman house, at 5:50 o'clock this afternoon was not held in the Moorish room as at first intended, but in the Salon Louis Quinze. Colonel Bryan's portrait, framed in a silk American flag, was just behind the chair reserved for Mayor Van Wyck, the presiding officer. It was discovered during the afternoon that the decorator had, in arranging the portrait of Colonel Bryan, intertwined the Filipino and American colors about the picture. This was believed to be an error, and at dinner time the colors of Aguinaldo were conspicuously absent.

When all were seated Colonel Bryan was between Crocker and Mayor Van Wyck.

The much-disputed cost of the dinner was settled by the Hoffman house management, who said that the cost was $12 per plate, exclusive of the wines.

About 200 men from the different city departments were on hand to act as ushers at Madison Square garden. Colonel Bryan entered at 7:15 o'clock. As the face of Mr. Crocker, behind which appeared Colonel Bryan's was seen the crowd burst forth in one great prolonged yell. As Colonel Bryan, escorted by Mr. Crocker, mounted the speakers' stand the cheering was continuous. Colonel Bryan rose to his feet and raised his hand. Mr. Crocker pulled him back into his seat. The cheering went on. Then Mr. Crocker rose, hesitated a moment, then raised his hand for silence. Instead of ceasing the crowd broke forth louder than ever. When quiet was restored Mr. Crocker rose, took Mr. Shepard by the hand and introduced him to the audience as chairman of the meeting.

It was shortly after 9 o'clock when the cavalcade heading the Bryan party rode down Madison avenue to the stand. The carriage could not drive within 50 feet of it, and Colonel Bryan, Mr. Crocker, Mr. Hearst and James Shevlin, of Brooklyn, who were in carriages, walked to the stand.

The minute Colonel Bryan stopped speaking Mr. Crocker took his arm and led him to the rear of the stand to see the crowd assembled there. He waved his hat to them and Mr. Crocker asked him: "Did you ever see anything like it?"

"Wonderful, wonderful," Colonel Bryan replied.

Colonel Bryan and his party arrived at Tammany hall at 9:25. Senator Mackey was speaking, but as soon as the crowd recognized Bryan it rose to its feet and cheered for several minutes. Richard Crocker, who accompanied Colonel Bryan, took a seat on the rear of the platform while the candidate went to the front and acknowledged the greeting.

IF BRYAN SHOULD WIN.

Uncertainty, demoralization and depression are the dangers dreaded by the people in the present election if Bryanism wins, and the more he displays himself, the more they see and hear him, the more evident their dread of his ascendancy, the more sure their drift away from him. It is well said by a close observer that "innumerable citizens will vote the Republican ticket, not because of personal likes or dislikes, but because they are against business demoralization and opposed to disturbing trade and finance, while the tide is running strongly for prosperity." They believe that Bryan "proposes dangerous experiments for established stability," and have found out that instead of having learned anything by the experience of the past four years, he is wilder and worse than he ever was.

As our army law, attacked by Bryan in his speeches, was enacted by the votes in congress of most of the Democrats in house and senate, Governor Roosevelt well asks "whether Mr. Bryan means to imply that these Democrats, in so voting, headed by Senator Cockrell, were actuated by the purpose to put the army in forts near great cities in order to terrorize working men?"

"I am for the flag first, last and all the time" is the way one Democrat speaks for multitudes who will vote for McKinley. This one is the editor of the Mount Pulaski Democrat, a prominent lawyer and a Democratic member of the last Illinois legislature.

WATCH THE COUNT.

Democratic Scheme to Carry Ohio For Bryan.

KEEP GUARD AT EVERY POINT!

There Are Thirty-three Hundred Precincts in Ohio, and the Stealing of a Few Votes in Every Precinct Would Mean a Change in the State's Vote.

The Republican state committee is informed that a scheme is on foot to steal the state for Bryan, if it can be done.

There are many ways in which this might be attempted, and every one of these should be guarded against. One is, to call a Republican ticket as a Democratic one, in the count of the vote. Another, and a very clever one, is for a Democratic judge who is "calling" the tickets one by one, to pick up two tickets at a time, thus losing one vote to McKinley and the whole Republican ticket every time this is done.

A single Democrat, on an election board, may thus reverse the verdict of his precinct. The ballots are destroyed when the count is completed, thus precluding any recount. See to it that the count is an honest one. The Republicans have nothing to fear from an honest ballot and a straight count.

Republican precinct committeemen in every precinct in Ohio have the legal right to see that EVERY BALLOT is not only called, but is called correctly. Insist on your legal rights!

Men who can be relied upon absolutely should be appointed watchers at EVERY polling place in the state, and they should be instructed to see that neither Republicans nor Democrats shall be cheated out of the votes which legally belong to them. Republicans want honest elections. They believe in the rule of the majority, and not in fraud and cheating.

TO THE WORKINGMEN.

Effects of Republican Policies Upon Their Welfare.

Hon. W. S. Manning, in a recent speech before a Republican club at Zanesville, made some telling points with his audience, which was largely composed of workingmen. Here are a couple of sample points:

"The workingmen, after having experienced a dose of Democracy, came to their senses in 1896, and placed in power the friends of American industry, with William McKinley at their head. The Dingley bill was passed, and as if by magic the mills were opened in every portion of the land. The workingmen can find employment without tramping from city to city. Universal prosperity, industry and happiness exists throughout the land where only four years ago distress, poverty and idleness prevailed.

"It is inconceivable that the workingmen of our country will permit themselves to be again led astray by the pleadings of a man who appeals to the passions and prejudices of the thoughtless and the evil-inclined. As ex-President Harrison said in his recent interview, referring to Mr. Bryan, that it is 'a dangerous thing to permit such a man even so much as to lean against the pillars of the temple.'"

"The paramount issue in this campaign is one which comes home to every man and affects all alike. It is whether the prosperity which was brought about by the election of William McKinley shall be continued."—From Senator Foraker's Speech.

IN THE PHILIPPINES.

It is not at all sensational nor surprising that letters of the Filipinos show that they are basing their hopes on Bryan, and that they have been unusually active of late in order to further Bryan's campaign. The trouble is, that the Filipinos overlook one point—that Bryan is playing false with them when he promises that the United States will give up the Philippines. The president cannot do this without the consent of both houses of congress. A consent on the part of the senate is out of question, and the Democrats of the south have declared, as openly as is possible, that they will never consent to giving up the Philippines, as they consider the possession of these islands of absolute necessity for the development of the south.

BRYAN FOR TAMMANY.

Crocker Has a Hard and Fast Alliance With Him.

CHIEF CROKER BAN EVERYTHING.

On Bryan's Visit to New York City. Crocker Was His Guide and Escort at Every Stage of the Proceedings—Anxious to Handle New York Patronage.

The greatest and brightest day in Bryan's history came and went on Tuesday, October 16, with his gorgeous reception by Tammany hall in New York city. But the greater it was, the more glaring its evidence of a danger in his election, from the company that he keeps. He is in alliance with Crocker and Tammany. "All about him on the platform were members of the Tammany ice trust. Of the 200 vice presidents, 180 were Tammany officeholders. Of well-known Democrats of New York city and Brooklyn, as judges, lawyers and business men, not one was there, except Crocker and Shepard." That nobody may think that these are partisan statements, distorted in order to do injustice to Mr. Bryan, we submit herewith the following sentences from the Associated Press account, as printed in full by the Cincinnati Enquirer, adding in all only the half a dozen words needed to explain each quotation:

The crowd cheered and hallooed as Colonel Bryan stepped out on the platform. Then, escorted by Richard Crocker and the committee, he began the journey toward the street.

Richard Crocker sat next to him, while Mr. Hearst and Mr. Shevlin occupied the other two seats in the carriage.

The dinner tendered William J. Bryan at the Hoffman house, at 5:50 o'clock this afternoon was not held in the Moorish room as at first intended, but in the Salon Louis Quinze. Colonel Bryan's portrait, framed in a silk American flag, was just behind the chair reserved for Mayor Van Wyck, the presiding officer. It was discovered during the afternoon that the decorator had, in arranging the portrait of Colonel Bryan, intertwined the Filipino and American colors about the picture. This was believed to be an error, and at dinner time the colors of Aguinaldo were conspicuously absent.

When all were seated Colonel Bryan was between Crocker and Mayor Van Wyck.

The much-disputed cost of the dinner was settled by the Hoffman house management, who said that the cost was $12 per plate, exclusive of the wines.

About 200 men from the different city departments were on hand to act as ushers at Madison Square garden. Colonel Bryan entered at 7:15 o'clock. As the face of Mr. Crocker, behind which appeared Colonel Bryan's was seen the crowd burst forth in one great prolonged yell. As Colonel Bryan, escorted by Mr. Crocker, mounted the speakers' stand the cheering was continuous. Colonel Bryan rose to his feet and raised his hand. Mr. Crocker pulled him back into his seat. The cheering went on. Then Mr. Crocker rose, hesitated a moment, then raised his hand for silence. Instead of ceasing the crowd broke forth louder than ever. When quiet was restored Mr. Crocker rose, took Mr. Shepard by the hand and introduced him to the audience as chairman of the meeting.

It was shortly after 9 o'clock when the cavalcade heading the Bryan party rode down Madison avenue to the stand. The carriage could not drive within 50 feet of it, and Colonel Bryan, Mr. Crocker, Mr. Hearst and James Shevlin, of Brooklyn, who were in carriages, walked to the stand.

The minute Colonel Bryan stopped speaking Mr. Crocker took his arm and led him to the rear of the stand to see the crowd assembled there. He waved his hat to them and Mr. Crocker asked him: "Did you ever see anything like it?"

"Wonderful, wonderful," Colonel Bryan replied.

Colonel Bryan and his party arrived at Tammany hall at 9:25. Senator Mackey was speaking, but as soon as the crowd recognized Bryan it rose to its feet and cheered for several minutes. Richard Crocker, who accompanied Colonel Bryan, took a seat on the rear of the platform while the candidate went to the front and acknowledged the greeting.

IF BRYAN SHOULD WIN.

Uncertainty, demoralization and depression are the dangers dreaded by the people in the present election if Bryan wins, and the more he displays himself, the more they see and hear him, the more evident their dread of his ascendancy, the more sure their drift away from him. It is well said by a close observer that "innumerable citizens will vote the Republican ticket, not because of personal likes or dislikes, but because they are against business demoralization and opposed to disturbing trade and finance, while the tide is running strongly for prosperity." They believe that Bryan "proposes dangerous experiments for established stability," and have found out that instead of having learned anything by the experience of the past four years, he is wilder and worse than he ever was.

As our army law, attacked by Bryan in his speeches, was enacted by the votes in congress of most of the Democrats in house and senate, Governor Roosevelt well asks "whether Mr. Bryan means to imply that these Democrats, in so voting, headed by Senator Cockrell, were actuated by the purpose to put the army in forts near great cities in order to terrorize working men?"

"I am for the flag first, last and all the time" is the way one Democrat speaks for multitudes who will vote for McKinley. This one is the editor of the Mount Pulaski Democrat, a prominent lawyer and a Democratic member of the last Illinois legislature.

WATCH THE COUNT.

Democratic Scheme to Carry Ohio For Bryan.

KEEP GUARD AT EVERY POINT!

There Are Thirty-three Hundred Precincts In Ohio, and the Stealing of a Few Votes In Every Precinct Would Mean a Change In the State's Vote.

The Republican state committee is informed that a scheme is on foot to steal the state for Bryan, if it can be done.

There are many ways in which this might be attempted, and every one of these should be guarded against. One is, to call a Republican ticket as a Democratic one, in the count of the vote. Another, and a very clever one, is for a Democratic judge who is "calling" the tickets one by one, to pick up two tickets at a time, thus losing one vote to McKinley and the whole Republican ticket every time this is done.

A single Democrat, on an election board, may thus reverse the verdict of his precinct. The ballots are destroyed when the count is completed, thus precluding any recount. See to it that the count is an honest one. The Republicans have nothing to fear from an honest ballot and a straight count.

Republican precinct committeemen in every precinct in Ohio have the legal right to see that EVERY BALLOT is not only called, but is called correctly. Insist on your legal rights!

Men who can be relied upon absolutely should be appointed watchers at EVERY polling place in the state, and they should be instructed to see that neither Republicans nor Democrats shall be cheated out of the votes which legally belong to them. Republicans want honest elections. They believe in the rule of the majority, and not in fraud and cheating.

TO THE WORKINGMEN.

Effects of Republican Policies Upon Their Welfare.

Hon. W. S. Manning, in a recent speech before a Republican club at Zanesville, made some telling points with his audience, which was largely composed of workingmen. Here are a couple of sample points:

"The workingmen, after having experienced a dose of Democracy, came to their senses in 1896, and placed in power the friends of American industry, with William McKinley at their head. The Dingley bill was passed, and as if by magic the mills were opened in every portion of the land. The workingmen can find employment without tramping from city to city. Universal prosperity, industry and happiness exists throughout the land where only four years ago distress, poverty and idleness prevailed.

"It is inconceivable that the workingmen of our country will permit themselves to be again led astray by the pleadings of a man who appeals to the passions and prejudices of the thoughtless and the evil-inclined. As ex-President Harrison said in his recent interview, referring to Mr. Bryan, that it is 'a dangerous thing to permit such a man even so much as to lean against the pillars of the temple.'"

"The paramount issue in this campaign is one which comes home to every man and affects all alike. It is whether the prosperity which was brought about by the election of William McKinley shall be continued."—From Senator Foraker's Speech.

IN THE PHILIPPINES.

It is not at all sensational nor surprising that letters of the Filipinos show that they are basing their hopes on Bryan, and that they have been unusually active of late in order to further Bryan's campaign. The trouble is, that the Filipinos overlook one point—that Bryan is playing false with them when he promises that the United States will give up the Philippines. The president cannot do this without the consent of both houses of congress. A consent on the part of the senate is out of question, and the Democrats of the south have declared, as openly as is possible, that they will never consent to giving up the Philippines, as they consider the possession of these islands of absolute necessity for the development of the south.

THE EVENING NEWS REVIEW.

16TH YEAR. NO. 115.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., TUESDAY, OCTOBER 23, 1900.

TWO CENTS

WITCHCRAFT IS ON DECK

Parties In East Liverpool Have
Been Bled to the Very Limit.

DEVILS DEMANDING MONEY

One Reputable Citizen Receives a
Message That He Must Put
Up $50.00.

THAT FRAUD OF A HINDOO

Have we believers in witchcraft in our midst. Are men and women plying their nefarious traffic right here in East Liverpool and preying upon the fears of their victims. Can such things be in this enlightened age?

Yea, verily. We have it from what should be good authority that one family in this city has been victimized to the extent of $400, while a prominent professional man has been threatened that, unless he produces $50, and places the same in the hands of a so-called clairvoyant in town, he will be "hoodooed" and rendered sick and despondent, and that he will not recover until the money is forthcoming and the "hoodoo" or "voudoo" removed. Of course he treated the matter with silent contempt, but is very indignant that the scoundrel should dare to send him such a message.

Our informant does not desire to be known in this matter, although we advised him to put the case in the hands of the proper officials and have the blackguards and blackmailers run out of the city, or have them prosecuted on the charge of blackmail and placed behind prison walls.

This paper has shut out from its columns all advertisements for palmists, second sight seers, clairvoyants and all such humbuggery, as there are many people who are humbugged thereby and who spend hard-earned cash in endeavoring to accomplish the impossible and to secure wealth and prosperity without rendering due equivalent for the same. The suckers who are thus caught, richly deserve their punishment; but this paper will not protect or aid the sharks in their nefarious, illegal and devilish practices, and we purpose giving them into the hands of the law whenever we can do so.

Not long since there appeared in our midst a man and a woman working along this line. The man designated himself as "Prince Zanaluma, the Hindoo Palmist." His partner assured us that he was engaged in legitimate and clean business, and that palmistry, as given by "Prince Zanaluma," was a science. We published their advertisement for a few days, when we caught a glance of "Zanaluma" on the street, and were astounded to find that the fellow was none other than Theodore Deitrich, a former resident of New Brighton, Beaver county, Pa., and later on engaged in photography with one Cowles, a dead beat who at one time did business and the people in general in an establishment between Washington and Market streets, on Fourth street, in East Liverpool. Deitrich had disguised himself with some sort of coloring matter, cultivated long hair and a pendulous goatee, and looked the foreigner to the letter, and to life. It is said that he caught many suckers while here. He would make a clever and successful impostor if he had about a bushel more of gray matter, as he has a full supply of cheek and gall.

MORE RAILROAD TALKS.

RIGHTS OF WAY HAVE BEEN
FILED WITH THE RECORDER.

If Signs Are Good There Ought to be
Some Kind of a Railroad Constructed Very Soon.

Lisbon, Oct. 23.—(Special.)—There has been filed with Recorder Crosser for record five rights of way along the old Beaver canal route extending from Lisbon to East Liverpool.

The papers were secured and filed by L. W. Healy, one of the promoters of the proposed East Liverpool and Lisbon electric line in which the East Liverpool street railway people are largely interested. The rights of way are good for one year from September 23, 1900.

The fact that these people have expended $50 to have the papers put on the county record looks as though they mean business.

Seven rights of way were also filed for record, which were taken out by the Canton & East Liverpool Railroad company in December, 1895. These documents cover the ground between Smith's Ferry and Kensington by way of West Point.

This company sold their franchise to the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad company, who filed the papers and are now making a new survey.

Hear Sells speak tonight.

SETTLED THE CASE.

Mrs. Betts, of Leetonia, Received $2,500 for the Death of Her Husband.

Lisbon, Oct. 23.—(Special.)—Lydia A. Betts, widow of Jonas Betts, who met death at the Leetonia railroad crossing several months ago, has settled her damage claim.

The claim was filed in probate court against both the Pennsylvania and Erie railroad companies, and the settlement was effected by the payment of $2,500.

NON-SUPPORT.

George B. Duncan Was Arrested on Complaint of His Wife, Annie
M. Duncan.

George B. Duncan was arrested this morning on complaint of his wife, Annie M. Duncan, and taken to the court of Squire Rose to answer to a charge of non-support of a minor child.

He pleaded guilty and a settlement was effected by Duncan agreeing to pay his wife $2 a week for the support of the child and the costs.

CALLED THE DEPARTMENT.

People Were Burning Rubbish And
Somebody Got Excited.

Some rubbish burning at the old electric light plant building about 8:30 this morning caused some one who saw the flames and smoke to become excited.

A telephone message called the department to the scene, but their services were not needed.

—Ed Heckathorn and Samuel Bloor returned yesterday afternoon from New York, where they attended the Metropolitan field day convention.

TOOK THE WHOLE FIRE DEPARTMENT

John Arb Was Hauled to the City
Jail In the Hose Wagon
and

WILL GO TO THE WORKHOUSE

Two More Offenders Took a Box
Car For a "Sleeper" and
Were Run In.

HAS BEEN AT MUCH EXPENSE

The police gathered in a few violators of the city ordinances last night in order to keep up their good record, and the people who drinketh bad whisky are now beginning to learn that it is expensive business.

John Arb caused a great deal of trouble yesterday afternoon and it took the whole fire department to arrest him. He was very drunk and had hid himself to a quiet spot under the Jethro trestle when Chief Thompson chanced that way. He spied John Arb and sent for the patrol, but instead the fire department appeared on the scene.

The officers decided it would be a shame to leave John remain on the ground much longer, so he was loaded in the hose wagon and taken to the jail.

All kinds of rumors were afloat that a man had fell from the Jethro bridge and had been seriously injured, but it turned out that John was the man and that the fall had consisted of a fall from grace.

The mayor assessed him the sum of $5 and costs and he will be taken to the works in the morning.

When Cliff Childer gets on a drunk he always hunts up the Midway and finds himself a sleeping place. He should know by this time that the Midway is not a place to sleep, but his memory is not very long. Yesterday Officer Dawson arrested him and took him before the mayor. He had no money and was released, but this morning left $5 60 of his cash to help along the city.

Joe Cannon and John Carney took possession of a box car on the Horn switch last night. They were sleeping the sleep of the unjust when Officers Gill and Morris arrived on the scene. The men were informed that box cars were not made for bed rooms and the victims were taken to the city jail. They were both fined $1 and costs and will join the street gang in the morning.

Sanford Neville was arrested last evening by Officer Mahony. Neville was drunk and disorderly at the corner of Fourth and Washington streets. He will get a hearing today.

That the way of the transgressor is hard should be known to Ocie Geary, but still she will persist in getting drunk. Last night she was drunk and disorderly on Second street, and was arrested by Aufderheide. She will get a hearing some time today.

DOWN THE HILL.

The Trolley Flew Off And the Car
Went Down Washington Street at a Rapid Rate.

Yesterday afternoon as street car No. 7, in charge of Motorman Thomas Jones, turned into Washington street

the trolley flew off, and as the sand box refused to work and the motorman had no power, the car shot down the hill to Second street and came near leaving the rails at the corner.

There were no passengers on the car. The trolley was badly damaged.

THEY ELOPED.

EDWARD MOORE AND KATIE
KAUFFMAN DEPARTED.

Mother Objected to the Young Man,
But Her Daughter Didn't Share
Her Opinion.

Edward Moore, of Rogers, and Miss Katie Kauffman, of Third street, have eloped.

Saturday morning he went to her home and wanted her to go to the theater with him that evening. Her mother refused to let her go and the same evening he met the girl coming from work. She didn't go home for supper and the couple in their travels met her brother Will. He asked her brother to go and buy tickets for the theater, but he refused.

Will went to the theater and watched for the couple, but didn't see them. Yesterday a note was received from Wellsville which read: "Don't worry about Katie, for we are going away to be married and will be back in two or three weeks."

The girl is aged about 18 years and Moore had not been at the house over six times, as the mother objected to him keeping company with her daughter.

OWEN CASE HELD IN ABEYANCE

The Judge Did Not Refuse Plea For
Alimony but Gave No Decision In His Case.

HOPES FOR A RECONCILIATION

The Judge Reviewed the Entire
Case and Made a Very Lengthy Statement.

THE ATTORNEYS WILL CONFER

Lisbon, Oct. 23.—(Special.)—Although a lengthy decision was rendered in the case of E. J. Owen against Mary Owen, of East Liverpool, the case is still unsettled in the hope that a reconciliation may take place.

Judge Hole refused to dispose of the case today or of the matter of the custody of the children, but intimated that in the event that the end could not be accomplished, a decree for alimony would be given Mrs. Owen.

The evidence in the case, as the court said, was very conflicting, although charges of intemperance were urged on each side, no evidence was produced to prove it, and Judge Hole held that in his opinion both Mr. and Mrs. Owen are today held in good repute in East Liverpool. Mrs. Owen was jealous of Miss Kell, stenographer of Owen at the pottery, but Judge Hole held that she had reason to be, not that there was any criminal relation between them, but because Owen refused and neglected to account for actions which aroused her jealousy and to explain to her the innocence of the actions complained of. Mr. Owen and Miss Kell walked to and from the pottery and soon the rumor of their intimacy was rife through the length and breadth of East Liverpool. When these rumors reached the ears of his wife she on her bended knees begged him to cease walking with her and stop the scandal.

Judge Hole claimed that the court recognized jealousy as a badge of deep and passionate love, and while Owen regarded it as his duty to guard the honor of his stenographer by refusing to dismiss her and restore peace to his home, Judge Hole claimed he should have stood by his wife and the honor of his fireside.

While the court cleared the skirts of Owen and his stenographer as to any criminal action, he expressed the belief that if Owen would remove this cause of jealousy the breach between husband and wife was not yet sufficiently broad enough to prevent them from living together.

The attorneys in the case will confer together and endeavor to effect a reconciliation.

BRYAN GUILTY OF INCONSISTENCY

He Distinguishes Between Good and Bad Monopolies on a Peculiar Basis.

DON'T YOU CORE MY OX

He Berates His "Trusts" Opponents and Admires His "Trust" Friends.

ICE TRUST IS A "LOCAL AFFAIR"

Here is good material for making Republican votes. Mr. Bryan is weighed in the balance and does not balance up right:

Bryan says that those who attempt to divide private monopolies into good monopolies and bad monopolies will never make progress towards the overthrow of trusts.

But Bryan does not say a word against any monopoly, however criminal, when his friends are in it.

He says the ice trust is "a local affair."

This is not true.

The company transacts a wholesale and retail business in the city of Greater New York, N. Y.; in Philadelphia, Pa.; in Baltimore, Md.; in Washington, D. C.; in Camden, N. J.; in Lakewood, N. J., and at Atlantic City, N. J.

The trust, therefore, having its home in New Jersey, the business it transacts can be local only in Camden, Lakewood and Atlantic City.

It cannot be local in Greater New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington, where it transacts an interstate wholesale and retail business.

Its interstate docks and plants in Maine, New York, Maryland and District of Columbia are not localized in New Jersey.

To say that the ice trust is a local affair is a lie made out of the whole cloth.

If Mr. Bryan wants proof of this, he can find it in the following portion of the official report of the American Ice company, to the New York stock exchange, at the time its directors applied for the listing of $12,440,000 preferred stock and $22,939,100 common stock, to the dealings of that exchange. (For convenient reference we refer Mr. Bryan to the report in full on page 793, vol. 69, of the Commercial and Financial Chronicle.)

"Incorporated in New Jersey on March 11, 1899.

"Plants and their location: (a) 11 docks situated in Greater New York; 2 ice manufactories situated in Greater New York; (b) plants for housing ice, situated on the Hudson river; (c) 4 docks situated in the city of Washington, D. C.; 2 sales depots; 1 ice house on the Potomac river; (d) 1 plant at Prince George county, Maryland; (e) 3 plants for housing ice situated on the Kennebec river; 1 plant for housing ice at Booth Bay, Maine."

The favoritism and protection extended by Emperor Dick Croker, of Greater New York, to the ice trust has been shown in the granting of valuable dockage privileges which no competing ice concern can get.

Two of Croker's dock commissioners, J. Sergeant Cram and Charles F. Murphy, were on the recently published list of stockholders.

The ice trust was given valuable contracts with the City of New York, through the official aid and consent of Croker, Mayor Van Wyck and others, interested stockholders.

According to the official records the following were some of the leading

Democratic stockholders a few weeks ago:

Mayor Robert A. Van Wyck, $525,000; Richard Croker, $100,000; Hugh McLaughlin, $30,000; Corporation Counsel John Whalen, $50,000; John F. Carroll, $467,000; Augustus Van Wyck, writer of the anti-trust plank of the Democratic platform, $175,000; F. A. Croker, $3,600; E. D. Croker, $3,500; L. J. Croker, $1,000; E. R. Carroll, $10,000.

At the Chicago trust conference, Sept. 16, 1899, Mr. Bryan said:

"I want to start with the declaration that a monopoly in private hands is indefensible from any standpoint, and intolerable. I make no exceptions to the rule."

Now let Mr. Bryan denounce the Democratic ice trust.

HANNA AND HIS MEN.

Here is a Little Bit of History That William Jennings Bryan Don't Quote.

Lisbon, in common with other parts of Columbiana county, has good reason to kindly remember Marcus A. Hanna. He has always been a just, humane and merciful employer of workmen, and is a steadfast believer in a fair day's wage for a fair day's work. There are some splendid citizens of East Liverpool who glory in the fact that he is their personal friend:

The Bryanites have been holding up Mark Hanna as a great ogre, whose only object in life was to crush the life out of some workingman and get a few dollars for the remains. At last Mr. Hanna has said a word in self-defense, and this is what he says:

"I never lied to my men, and I never refused my men what was justly due them. I am president of a mine up in Lake Superior, where 2,000 men are employed. Four years ago Mr. Bryan went up there to tell the miners what a terrible man I was. I ordered the mine shut down for half a day—but did not shut off the pay—and told my men to go and see Bryan. They turned their backs on him and went home. Later they sent me resolutions to the effect that they were glad they had a chance to resent the insult that had been offered me on my own property."

Mr. Hanna is satisfied to let it go at that, and it would seem as if he could afford to.

THE MISSIONARY SOCIETY MISSING

Late Eliza Porter Left Property to the Church and Money to Society,

BUT SOCIETY CAN'T BE FOUND

Board of Foreign Missions Wants the Cash and Executor Is In a Quandary.

THE NEWS OF THE COURTS

Lisbon, Oct. 23.—(Special.)—The estate of the late Eliza Porter, of Homeworth, is now in litigation.

Mrs. Porter died two months ago at the age of 78 years, leaving by will a house and lot in Homeworth to the Presbyterian church and provided that the remainder of her estate go to the missionary society.

Joseph Johnson, executor of the estate, filed the suit against John Johnson and about 25 other legal heirs. He has stated to the court that after diligent search he has failed to learn of the existence of such a society and that the board of foreign missions of the Presbyterian church of the United States of America claims to be the legatee, which was intended by the testator.

The personal property amounts to nearly $4,000 and the executor wanted the court to put a special conception on that clause of the will.

F. A. Shoemaker, of Leetonia, came into court just before adjournment last evening and entered a plea of guilty of having furnished liquor to minor girls.

He entered the plea, he said, because he had no money with which to fight the case. As it was his first offense Judge Hole was lenient and fined him $15 and costs, which he paid.

The case of Ohio versus James D. Smith was one assigned for hearing today, but last evening Judge Hole consented to pass the case until later in the term.

Smith is charged with non-support of a minor child, and the case was continued on a motion which stated the absence of an important witness for the defense, who is now in Brazil, Indiana.

The case of C. W. Richards, receiver of the Aetna Fire Association of Cincinnati, against Catherine Bright has been settled out of court. The sum of $113 41 was claimed by reason of a loan extended.

Judgment was entered in favor of the plaintiff in the case of James W. Reilley against John E. Dorman, of Wellsville, in the sum of $512 86 due on a note.

Writes a Local Firm in Regard to the Splendid Republican Times.

There has been much complaint to the potteries recently about the slow shipments, principally from the south in the Democratic part of the United States.

Yesterday a firm received a letter from one of their southern agents registering a kick. He said he was aware they were considerably cramped on account of the McKinley prosperity and closed by saying:

"I am afraid if we re-elect McKinley we will be compelled to elect Bryan in 1904 in order to get relief."

The local firm agrees with their agent, but are satisfied to have no change in the administration for another four years.

Uncle Tom's Cabin.

A treat is in store for lovers of that ever-lasting success, Uncle Tom's Cabin, which comes to the Grand Saturday evening, Oct. 27.

It will be presented by Al W. Martin's big company of 60 white and colored people, and with thousands of dollars' worth of beautiful scenery and effects. Over 50 people are utilized in the production, and the cast is in the hands of competent actors. Every stick of scenery used from the rise to the fall of the curtain is carried by the company, and several of the settings are worthy of more than passing comment. Notable among them is the St. Clair home, showing a tropical garden, with its fragrant magnolia and orange trees, among which nestles the typical southern plantation residence, the home of little Eva. Legree's cotton plantation on the Red river with the cotton in full bloom. The wild rocky pass in southern Ohio, and the ice-choked Ohio river by moonlight. The transformation, entitled "The Celestial City," is said to be the most magnificent tableau ever conceived. Matinee prices, 10 and 25 cents. Evening, 10, 20, 30 and 50 cents.

Life's a Sack Race

To a sick man. He's hobbled, hampered, handicapped by his sickness. Every little while he has to lay off for a day.

He can't get ahead. Every body passes him in the struggle for success. His sickness originates in a diseased condition of the stomach (and most sickness does) there's a cure for it. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is not a cure all, but a medicine specially designed to cure diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. It cures many forms of disease, because many forms of disease originate in a diseased condition of the stomach and digestive and nutritive system.

"I write to tell you of the great benefit I have received from the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," writes Mr. G. B. Bird, of Byrnside, Putnam County, West Va. "It cured me of a very bad case of indigestion associated with torpid liver. Before I began the use of 'Golden Medical Discovery' I had no appetite; could not sleep or work but very little. The little that I ate did not agree with me; bowels constipated, and life was a misery to me. I wrote to Dr. Pierce, giving the symptoms, and asked for advice. You advised me to try the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' so I began the use of it, and after taking four bottles I felt so well that I went to work, but soon got worse, so I again began the use of it, and used it about eight weeks longer, when I was permanently cured. I took in all about twelve bottles of the 'Discovery,' and some of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets in connection with the 'Discovery.'"

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets keep the bowels in healthy action.

Unsightly Teeth.

The most prolific cause of poor teeth, and of the unpleasant conditions which follows is the accumulation of food between the teeth.

If not properly removed it becomes a medium for the growth of minute organisms, which, developing with tremendous rapidity, produce acids that attack the enamel and cause decay.

The "Oriental" Tooth Powder and "Odonto" Tooth Wash are perfect cleansing agents and a perfect dentifrice. It corrects acidity, cleanses and whitens the teeth, perfumes the breath and leaves in the mouth a delightful sensation of freshness and cleanliness.

SERIOUS RIOTS OCCUR

Miners Attacked at a Wilkesbarre Washery.

SEVERAL PERSONS WERE WOUNDED

Shots Were Fired—Bullet Just Grazed One Ear of a Coal and Iron Policeman. Poles Beaten For Objecting to Being Called "Scabs."

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 23.—Another riot occurred at the Stanton washery of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal company. When the workmen started to go to their homes under the protection of coal and iron police fully 5,000 people had gathered. A telephone message was sent to police headquarters in this city for help, and Chief of Police Kline and a number of officers responded.

The men who had been at work were put on board a small mine locomotive, but before the locomotive could get under way someone fired. The police returned the fire, but no one was struck. Another volley from the windows of some houses followed. Every pane of glass in the cab of the locomotive was broken, but no one was wounded. Two of the workmen on the locomotive jumped off and were knocked down and kicked, but were rescued by the police. The names of the injured men are: Bradley Hoffman and John Delinski, the latter being so badly injured that he had to be taken to Mercy hospital.

As the officers were returning to headquarters the electric car on which they rode was stoned, all the windows on one side of the car broken and Police Sergeant Hall and two other passengers slightly injured. Mayor Nichols soon reached the scene and warned the mob that they were doing the cause of labor more injury than good. He said the law would be upheld, and he was there to help uphold it. The mayor's speech had a good effect and the mob slowly dispersed to their homes.

Previously a riot occurred at the above mentioned works. A gang of men was going to work to screen coal on the bank of the Empire mine, to be used to keep water pumped out, when they were set upon by a mob of men, women and boys. John J. O'Hara, foreman of the gang, was knocked down with a stone and his nose fractured. He had to run away to escape with his life. Other workmen were slightly injured.

During the melee three shots were fired. One bullet grazed the ear of Coal and Iron Policeman H. C. McCarrell. The mob destroyed all the tools of the workmen.

A number of Polanders who have been working at the West End Coal company's colliery at Mocanaqua were held up by some strikers and their sympathizers, who called the Poles "scabs." The foreigners attempted to resent the insult, but they had to retreat under a shower of stones. One man was badly cut on the head.

Mayor Nichols is seriously considering a proposition to arm the police force with guns, so that they will be able to cope with a mob, should they be called upon to quell a riot.

MITCHELL ENCOURAGED.

He Says There Is Prospect of an Early Settlement—What He Believes Miners Will Accept.

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 23.—President Mitchell, in an interview, said:

"The prospect of an early settlement of the coal strike is becoming brighter. Some of the operators who have not posted notices signifying their willingness to fall in line either with the Reading company or with the proposition made by the Lehigh Valley company in the Hazleton region. If all of them notify their employees by posting notices or otherwise that an actual advance of 10 per cent will be paid each mine employee and guarantee its continuance until April 1, together with the abolition of the sliding scale, I believe that the terms would be accepted by the mine workers. The reduction in powder from $2.75 to $1.50 has confused the minds of the miners, but some of the operators have so fully explained how contract miners could receive the full advance of 10 per cent as well as other employees that I believe that this obstacle can be overcome."

Some of the coal companies are showing a disposition not to issue a second notice guaranteeing the payment of the 10 per cent increase in wages until April. Among these are the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western and the Delaware and Hudson, the officials of both companies are reported to have declined to issue supplemental notice. The labor leaders, however, hope that the companies will in some way make known that they will guarantee the payment of the advance until April 1. As soon as all the notices guaranteeing the payment of the advance until April 1 are posted, President Mitchell will call a meeting of the national executive board, at which it is believed the strike will be declared off.

A large labor demonstration took place here. Nearly 7,000 miners paraded the streets. In a carriage at their head rode President Mitchell, who received an enthusiastic ovation all along the line of march. Thousands of people came to the city to view the parade.

President Mitchell reviewed the parade at the end of the route, after which a mass meeting was held, at which President Mitchell was the principal speaker. He said that the strike was in such a peculiar position that it was hard to outline just what the result would be. He believed the time was not far distant, however, when every mine would be in operation and that the men now had practically won the strike.

President Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers, in an interview at Hazleton, Pa., said that if all the companies would notify their employees that an actual advance of 10 per cent will be guaranteed till April 1, and that the sliding scale will be abolished, he believed the terms would be accepted by the mine workers.

METHODIST CONVENTION.

Devotional Exercises, Opened—Pennsylvania State Meeting in Grace Church, Harrisburg.

Harrisburg, Oct. 23.—The Pennsylvania state convention of the Methodist Episcopal churches opened in Grace church with devotional exercises, conducted by Rev. Dr. S. H. Pratt, of Titusville. Addresses of welcome were made by Governor Stone, Rev. Dr. J. Wesley Hill and Dr. Ezra H. Yocum. Responses were made by Geo. P. Hukill, of Oil City; Rev. L. L. Sprague, of Kingston, and ex-Governor Robert E. Pattison, of Philadelphia.

Each charge in the various conferences of the state is entitled to a delegate, and it is expected that there will be 1,000 ministerial and lay representatives present during the convention. Bishop Cyrus Foss will preach at today's session, after which a permanent organization will be effected. Governor and Mrs. Stone will tender an informal reception to the delegates this afternoon at the executive mansion.

Hard to do housework with an aching back.

Hours of misery at leisure or at work.

If women only knew the cause;

Backache pains come from sick kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills will cure it.

East Liverpool people endorse this.

Mrs. Mary Hewitt, of St. George street, says: "I read in the Pittsburgh Press an account of some one who had been cured of kidney complaint in that city from using Doan's Kidney Pills. The fact of such an account being published of one living in almost the same place had a tendency to convince me that there must be some truth in it, and I determined to try them myself. Some years before this I had a severe attack of rheumatism; for three months I lay helpless, and after that I had trouble with my kidneys. For a year I suffered severely. My back was so bad that it felt as if I had a boil where the kidneys are. I could not bend, lean back against a chair or reach up. I could not lie on my back, and about every move I made caused me pain. I had taken numerous remedies, but none brought the desired relief. Well, Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at the W. & W. pharmacy, did what no other remedy was able to do. I took them regularly for a short time and found them to be all that the Pittsburgh paper stated them to be. I can heartily recommend them. After using them I was rid of backache and other symptoms of kidney trouble."

Secretary Hay Expresses Approval of the Anglo-German Agreement in Regard to China.

Washington, Oct. 23.—The German charge d'affaires, Count de Quadt, had a conference with Secretary Hay, presenting officially the text of the Anglo-German agreement, including the invitation to the United States to accept the principles therein recorded. Mr. Hay expressed his satisfaction at what had been done, saying he felt it to be in complete harmony with the policy this government had pursued, both as to the maintenance of unobstructed commerce in China and the territorial entity of the empire, and adding that a formal reply would be given in a day or two.

Before receiving the official invitation from Germany, Mr. Hay had been fully advised of the agreement, and had gone over it with great care with the president Sunday and Monday. This was the more necessary, owing to the president's departure for Canton last night. The result of these deliberations is summed up in the statement that the government views the Anglo-German agreement with favor. It is also probable that some attention has been given to the draft of the American reply. It is likely to be in the form of a note of approval rather than any formal adherence to the alliance.

About the only serious question which has arisen as to the American reply was on clause 3 of the Anglo-German agreement. This states that in case of another power making use of the complications in China in order to obtain territorial advantages, Germany and Great Britain reserve the right to reach a preliminary understanding on the eventual step to be taken for the protection of their interests. This is open to the construction of being a threat against other powers, and there was no desire on the part of officials here to give American adherence to anything in the nature of a threat. It is probable that the American reply will not go beyond accepting the principle that Germany and Great Britain have a right to agree between themselves as to their eventual course.

T. O. KELLY.

BRYAN ON GOLD STANDARD.

"If there is any one who believes the gold standard is a good thing, or that it must be maintained, I warn him not to cast his vote for me, because I promise him it will not be maintained in this country longer than I am able to get rid of it."

This language was used by Hon. William Jennings Bryan in a speech at Knoxville, Tenn., on September 16, 1896.

BEWARE.

Get on to the trick of the local Democracy. They are working the policy of having all Democrats who will not vote for Bryan, under any circumstances, cast their ballots for John G. Woolley. You do your full duty; vote the Republican ticket straight, with your nice little cross right under the eagle.

GO HEAR SELLS.

Don't fail to go to the wigwam tonight and hear what the eloquent Republican workingman has to say respecting McKinley and Roosevelt and the prosperous condition of the country under Republican rule. Mr. Sells is a pleasant and able speaker, and you will be well repaid for an hour spent in his company. Honest money

Democrats, losing sight of prejudice and partisanship, and longing for continued prosperity, have a special invitation to this meeting.

DON DICKINSON.

Don M. Dickinson, postmaster general under Grover Cleveland's administration, comes out for McKinley and Roosevelt, and roundly scores Bryan, stating that the latter does nothing but indulge in fault finding against better men than himself, and advocates no settled plan or form of government. Don is right. Bryan is simply a loud mouthed demagogue.

BRYAN AND TRUSTS.

Read article in another column headed "Bryan Guilty of Inconsistency." How any sane voter can adhere to and cast his ballot for such a dealer in vagaries, gossamer tissue theories and abnormal visions is beyond the ken of sensible men. Surely William Jennings Bryan well deserves the titles of "buncombe declaimer," "Nebraska visionary" and "Calamity Howler." A nice representative to place in the presidential chair of this great and powerful nation. Such a fellow would make us the laughing stock of the civilized world.

THANK YOU.

Some time since the wife of the writer desired to send a box of second-hand clothing, underwear and shoes to needy colored folks in the southland. The lady wanted good and clean garments. She made announcement in these columns of her desire, and quick response came from Good Samaritans, noble men and women of East Liverpool. One large barrel, packed to the limit, has gone to the needy ones, freight prepaid. Another barrel will follow soon. God will give you your reward in due time, friends, in time and in eternity. "Even as ye did it unto one of the least of these, my little ones, ye did it unto me." Other gifts of like character will be acceptable. Do you want a share of the blessing?

A GLORIOUS TRINITY.

The Filipinos term the following delectable triplets a "glorious trinity": "Rizal, Bryan and Aguinaldo." What think ye of this, ye fathers and mothers whose sons rest in death in Cuba, brave followers of gallant and heroic leaders? What think ye of this, you who have loved ones doing battle for the country in the ranks at the Philippines or far distant China? What think ye, all men and women who love and honor and venerate Old Glory and the principles of freedom and right advocated wherever the dear old flag floats? The insurgents in the Philippines term Bill Bryan one of their patron saints. He should, by all sense of right and justice, be proclaimed a traitor to his country, giving aid and sympathy to a foreign foe, and like Vallandigham of old, be sent out to the tender care of the savages of Luzon. The south sickened on Vallandigham and would have none of him; and the bolo men of the Philippines would do the same with Calamity Howler Bryan when they formed his closer and more intimate acquaintance. Bryan and Stevenson? They are truly a delectable pair; the first the traducer and slanderer of Uncle Sam's soldiers now on duty—the latter the traducer and slanderer of Abraham Lincoln and the boys in blue of the civil war. Cover this pill with sugar and spices, and the bitterness is still in full evidence on the palates of all loyal men in the nation. These are plain words; but they are true accusations, backed by undeniable facts, and the truth should be told plainly in all such emergencies.

GEORGE KNOWLES FILED NEW SUIT

Wants $1,200 Damages by Reason of a Change of Grade on Avondale Street.

RETAINING WALL COST MONEY

Grade Nine Years Ago Was Unreasonable; but the Last Grade
Was Too Much.

WILL WORK ON THE STREETS

Lisbon, Oct. 23.—(Special.)—The case of George Knowles against the city of East Liverpool has again been instituted in court. Knowles claims that he has a $1,200 damage case against the city by reason of what he claims to be the unreasonable grade established two years ago on Avondale street in front of two lots fronting on the street in M. R. McKinnon's addition to the city on which he has erected two dwelling houses.

The first grade was established nine years ago, which he said was unreasonable, but when the last cut was made lowering the street two feet more he thought that his rights as a citizen had been disregarded and he sued for damages.

He claims that his property has been impaired in value and that he was caused great expense in building a retaining wall.

The first suit filed was knocked out by a technicality several weeks ago when a demurrer was sustained dismissing the action.

JUDGE DECIDES

HE WILL NOT HOLD COURT OUT-SIDE OF COUNTY SEAT.

Submitted a Very Lengthy Opinion in Which He Gave His Reasons.

Judge Hole in a lengthy decision today announced that he would not hold court outside of Lisbon.

He stated that he had received petitions from Salem, Wellsville, Salineville and East Palestine and had presented them at a meeting of the Ninth Judicial district. The judges were unanimous that the judge could not hold court outside of the county seat and decisions rendered at such time were unlawful.

THOMAS LEITH DIDN'T GET IT

Judge Hole Was of the Opinion
That He Didn't Have Sufficient Grounds

TO BE GRANTED A DIVORCE

Her Request For Alimony Was
Also Refused and Leith
Must Pay All

THE COSTS IN THE TWO CASES

Lisbon, Oct. 23.—(Special.)—Judge Hole rendered his decision this morning in the divorce and alimony case of Thomas J. Leith against Belle Leith, of Wellsville, refusing both the divorce to the husband and alimony to the wife, assessing all costs on Leith.

The court held with Judge Boone that there was no evidence of intellectual aberration on the part of Mrs. Leith, and that she was sufficiently sane to understand the duties of a wife.

However, in this state Judge Hole held her failure to live with the plaintiff in this relation for a period of three years does not constitute wilful absence. The charge against her of neglect of duty was in part sustained, although not in a degree to warrant a legal separation.

The court held that her conduct actuated wholly by her perverted view of religion is no excuse for her living apart from her husband, although during the first 25 years of their married life she performed all of her duties as a wife; and up to the time of her abandonment kept his house and prepared his meals for him.

Mrs. Leith wanted a decree for alimony on grounds of cruelty and abandonment. Her refusal, the court held, to leave Wellsville and go with her husband to Bellaire in May, 1899, constituted wilful absence on her part, and by the decision Leith was never guilty of abuse.

Mrs. Leith has given notice of her intention to appeal to circuit court.

SHAMEFUL.

This Father of a Fine Family Has No
True Sense of the Eternal Fitness
of Life.

"He has a noble wife and a family beyond reproach. He has beautiful and charming and cultured daughters. He has a home which should be a paradise upon earth. And happiness and peace and contentment would dwell within the home circle were it not for the fact that the scarlet women of East Liverpool have led astray the man who should have been the protector of that wife and the support of his children. He is well known in this city and calls himself a man of decision of character and strong will, when his actions declare him as weak and unstable as water and utterly lacking in the essentials which constitute a true man and a good citizen. He fondly imagines that his evil life is known but to a few, and that they will not dare to expose him. Let him beware. Forbearance will ere long cease to be a virtue in his case, and he will be held up to the scorn of all decent and respectable people."

NEED PROTECTION.

Scarlet Fever Has Made Its Appearance in the Village of Chester.

Chester is just now very badly in need of some sort of regulation to protect the town against the danger from contagious diseases.

Leo, a small son of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Hilliard, of Carolina, went home from school ill. Dr. W. R. Clark, of East Liverpool, was summoned did not hesitate in pronouncing the case scarlet fever.

The case in question is not reported as a dangerous one, but at the same time it might be the cause of an epidemic in this community and there is no doubt that this would result disastrously, as there is no active health authorities in the community.

Inquiries made at various points developed the fact that some of the best informed citizens knew of the existence of a board of health and thought the matter should be in the hands of some one who would look after it, not a single resident approached on the subject knew who they were and how they had been selected.

Several prominent citizens expressed their determination to agitate the question until action of some sort is taken.

As matters now stand much alarm is felt by those in charge of the schools, as another member of the Hilliard family was taken from school and six other pupils have quit.

CUNNINGHAM SHOT.

The Disastrous End of a Hunting Trip
Which Was Taken
Yesterday.

Harvey Allison, James McKinnon and John Cunningham went hunting south of town yesterday and in some manner became separated. Not long afterward Allison and Cunningham were coming down on opposite sides of a small ravine when Allison sighted a squirrel. He took aim and not perceiving Cunningham fired. The load took effect in Cunningham's right arm between the elbow and shoulder, inflicting a very painful wound.

He was brought to his home in Chester where the wound was dressed and the gentleman made as comfortable as possible. He is resting easy today.

He Used Turpentine.

Enoch Riley, a packer employed in one of the Liverpool potteries, had a sore hand, and yesterday put a quantity of turpentine on the injury. He was in the act of lighting his pipe afterward when the turpentine ignited, burning the fingers of both hands severely.

A Good Attendance.

A good attendance was present at the Democratic meeting held at Rock Springs last night. Two local members of the party from East Liverpool had an altercation near the Virginia end of the bridge, but friends interfered before the parties came to blows.

Burglars Were Fooled.

An attempt was made to rob the residence of Link Allison in Middle run one night last week during the owner's absence at prayer meeting. The effort was unsuccessful, but the affair had the effect of very badly frightening the ladies of the house.

Returned Home.

Tom Bambrick returned last evening from the east. He brought with him a blooded horse and the probabilities are that some hot races will be pulled off between him and James

DEATH OF SHERMAN.

His Demise Ascribed to Brain Exhaustion.

FUNERAL OCCURS TOMORROW.

Services to Be Held at His Late Residence, Conducted by Rev. Mackay Smith. Body to Be Taken to Mansfield, O., Where Services Will Occur Thursday.

Washington, Oct. 23.—Death came to the Hon. John Sherman in this city after almost 36 hours of nearly complete unconsciousness. During the last 15 hours of his life he was all the time unconscious, and passed away while in this condition. A number of relatives and friends who had assembled in Washington were at the bedside when the end came. The most devoted of them was Mrs. McCallum, the adopted daughter of the Secretary and Mrs. Sherman, who remained constantly at the bedside during the last hours.

Brain exhaustion was given as the cause of death.

Mr. Sherman's demise occurred in the handsome home on K street, which he had erected eight years ago.

He had held a prominent place in the legislative and administrative branches of the government for about 40 years.

The funeral arrangements, so far as they pertain to the services in Washington, will take place at the late residence of Mr. Sherman tomorrow afternoon about 1 o'clock. Rev. Mackay Smith, of St. John's Episcopal church, being the officiating clergyman. Immediately after the services the body will be taken to Mansfield, O., where the arrangements for the last sad rites have been left in the hands of Representative W. S. Kerr and other friends of the family. Services will be held Thursday probably in the Episcopal church usually attended by Mr. Sherman when at Mansfield, and the interment will be made on that afternoon in the family burial lot beside the grave of Mrs. Sherman. The party going from here will include relatives and friends and also representatives of the state and treasury departments.

The list of honorary pallbearers is still incomplete, but as far as those invited have accepted include the following: Secretary Gage, Justice Harlan, of the supreme court; Hon. John A. Kasson, Hon. J. C. Bancroft Davis, Hon. J. D. Cameron, Senator Hawley and M. M. Parker. The members of the cabinet now here will attend the services at the house, and President McKinley will go to Mansfield from Canton to attend the services there.

Of the large family of brothers and sisters originally comprising the Sherman family only two brothers survive. Some weeks ago the secretary deeded the K street property to Mrs. McCallum. The secretary was a large holder of real estate in this city, having invested extensively in that line from time to time during his residence here. Conservative estimates of his wealth place it at a round million dollars, most of which is believed to consist of Washington real estate. Other investments consist of securities, and it is stated that the old family home at Mansfield, O., remained in his possession, notwithstanding reports that he had disposed of it prior to his return to Washington last month.

Mr. Sherman was well known about the streets of Washington. He was fond of walking, and in his later years he drove almost every afternoon in a large open carriage, accompanied until her death by Mrs. Sherman.

Following is a sketch of the dead man's life and career:

John Sherman was born at Lancaster, O., May 10, 1823. His paternal ancestors emigrated from the County of Essex, England, to New England. His grandfather, Taylor Sherman, of Norwalk, Conn., was an accomplished scholar and able jurist, who had a seat on the bench. He went to Ohio to settle some disputed boundary questions and located in Sherman township, Huron county. He married Elizabeth Stoddard, a direct descendant of Anthony Stoddard, Charles H. Sherman a son and the father of the distinguished statesman, was a native of Norwalk, Conn., where he was brought up and admitted to the bar. He married Mary Hoyt, also of Norwalk, and soon after practiced law at Lancaster, O., where he was chosen by the legislature to the supreme bench. He died suddenly at Lebanon, O., when John Sherman was 6 years old.

In the spring of 1831 an uncle of the future senator took the boy to his home at Mt. Vernon, where he remained for four years. He attended the common school there and when 12 years of age was taken to Lancaster and attended the academy at that place. When he was far enough advanced in his studies to have entered the sophomore class at college he was tendered a position as junior rodman on the "Muskingum Improvement," with a corps of engineers engaged in constructing the Ohio system of canals. He began work with them at Lowell, O., and in the spring of 1838 was placed tempoorarily in charge of the work at Beverly, O., where he remained during the rest of his service with the engineers.

In 1838, the Whig party having lost the state election, he lost his place, and at once went to Mansfield, O., where he began to study law with his brother Charles. Here he regularly prepared the pleadings and did a good share of the office work. After the first year he was entirely self-supporting. May 11, 1844, he was admitted to the bar at Springfield, O., and forthwith entered into a partnership with his brother at Mansfield. After this he was employed in the practice of law until he was elected a member of congress in 1854. Shortly after his admission to the bar his mother and two sisters removed from Lancaster to Mansfield and kept house for him.

In 1846-47 Mr. Sherman went to Washington, where he remained a month and became acquainted with most of the great men of the day, among them being Stephen A. Douglass, of Illinois. In the spring of 1848 he was sent to the national Whig convention at Philadelphia as a delegate and was made secretary of that body. Mr. Sherman heartily supported the nomination of Zachary Taylor for the presidency, and canvassed a portion of Ohio for him.

August 30, 1848, Mr. Sherman married Cecelia, only daughter of Judge Stewart, of Mansfield. In 1852 he was a delegate to the national Whig convention at Baltimore, Md., and supported its nominee for president, General Winfield Scott. In 1853-4 he opened a law office at Cleveland, O. When the congressional anti-Nebraska convention came together great difficulties arose concerning fusion, the choice for a congressional candidate fell upon Sherman and he was elected. He was chairman of the first Ohio Republican state convention which nominated Salmon P. Chase for governor and participated also as a delegate in the formation of the Republican party at Philadelphia, after which he took his seat in the national congress six years before the breaking out of the Civil War. There was a fierce and prolonged struggle attendant upon the election of a speaker of this house, and Mr. Sherman finally declared his intention to vote for General N. P. Banks, because of his attitude toward slavery. Mr. Banks having said that the repeal of the Missouri Compromise would not give any advantage to the slave traffic if he could avoid it.

Mr. Sherman was appointed a member of the Kansas investigating committee with regard to the troubles there, and this appointment marked the turning point in his political career. Mr. Sherman, at the request of his colleagues, collected the testimony and formulated the report. When presented to congress it caused deep feeling and was the issue in the presidential campaign of 1856. In that campaign Mr. Sherman supported John C. Fremont for the presidency.

Bills appropriating public money were always closely scrutinized by Mr. Sherman, and by his close attention to the business of the house he became recognized toward the close of his second term as one of the foremost men in the body. In February, 1861, he first saw Abraham Lincoln, and the friendship between the two men formed at that time lasted until the death of the latter. When the Civil War broke out Mr. Sherman tendered his services as an aide-camp without pay until the meeting of the first war congress. He then had recruited at his own expense two companies of infantry, a squadron of cavalry and a battery of artillery.

When Salmon P. Chase resigned his seat as United States senator from Ohio in 1861 to accept a portfolio in Lincoln's cabinet Mr. Sherman was elected senator, and retained the seat during the war, although he strenuously desired to enlist and go to the front. He was a member of the senate committee on finance during the war, and had charge of those great measures which upheld the credit of the United States at home and abroad during that trying period. In the summer of 1862 he took charge of the national banking bill at the request of the secretary of the treasury, and made the only speech in the senate in its favor, although the bill was before that body for 10 days. After the war, when he had been re-elected senator, he was again chairman of the senate committee on finance, and his many brilliant financial successes as a member of that committee or its chairman for many years are well remembered. When the Credit Mobilier investigation was being made Mr. Sherman was attacked by many people, who said he had made much money during the war and must have made it improperly. He answered these attacks with proof to the contrary, and silenced his accusers.

In 1871 he initiated at Washington the movement for the resumption of specie payments, and was chosen to the United States senate for the third time. President Hayes was inaugurated March 4, 1877, and at once made Mr. Sherman secretary of the treasury. The latter took measures for the sale of bonds, and in other ways provided for the resumption of specie payments, against the croaking of financiers all over the country, and his success stamped him as one of the greatest financiers of the world. In 1877 he was again elected United States senator. In 1880 Mr. Sherman was a candidate for the Republican nomination for president of the United States, his name being presented to the convention by James A. Garfield, of Ohio, to whom the nomination finally went. Afterward Mr. Sherman charged that he had been deliberately cheated of the nomination. He was tainted later conventions as a possible candidate for president, but never attained his ambition in this direction, which is known to have embittered the last few years of his life. In 1892 he was chosen United States senator from Ohio, but resigned the seat in 1897 to become secretary of state in the cabinet of President McKinley. Ill-health compelled his retirement from that position in the spring of 1898, and he then retired from public life, vacillating between his summer home at Mansfield, O., and his winter residence at Washington. Early in the present summer Mrs. Sherman died at the Mansfield home, after a very brief illness. The couple were childless, and adopted a daughter some years ago, who afterward married and resided at the Sherman house in Washington. During his entire public life Mr. Sherman maintained his home at Mansfield, O. There he was a familiar figure during the summer months, well known to every person in that city, and being an especial favorite of the children.

IN MEMORY OF SHERMAN.

Washington, Oct. 23.—The news of Mr. Sherman's death was immediately communicated to the president and secretary of state. The president at once directed that the white house be closed to visitors and that the flag over the executive mansion be placed at half-mast. He also ordered that some flowers be sent to the Sherman home, and then went there himself to express his sorrow to the bereaved family. Mrs. McKinley later drove to the Sherman home and left her card.

After a meeting of the cabinet the president issued the following proclamation to the people of the United States:

In the fullness of years and honors, John Sherman, lately secretary of state, has passed away. Few among our citizens have risen to greater or more deserved eminence in the national councils than he. The story of his public life and services is, as it were, the history of the country for half a century. In the congress of the United States he ranked among the foremost in the house, and later in the senate. He was twice a member of the executive cabinet, first as secretary of the treasury and afterward as secretary of state. Whether in debate during the dark hours of our Civil War, or as the director of the country's finances during the period of rehabilitation or as a trusted councillor in framing the nation's laws for over 40 years, or as the exponent of its foreign policy, his course was ever marked by devotion to the best interests of his beloved land, and by able and conscientious effort to uphold its dignity and honor. His countrymen will long revere his memory and see in him a type of the patriotism, the uprightness and the zeal that go to molding and strengthening a nation.

In fitting expression of the sense of bereavement that afflicts the republic, I direct that on the day of the funeral the executive offices of the United States display the national flag at half-mast, and that the representatives of the United States in foreign countries shall pay in like manner appropriate tribute to the illustrious dead for a period of 10 days.

SCORED BY ROOSEVELT

Men Who Annoyed Him Get Hot Replies.

HE DENIED ONE MAN'S CHARGE.

Declared He Had Not Called Democrats Cowards and Dishonest—Made Speeches in His Own State—Entertained at Home of Mr. Odell.

Kingston, N. Y., Oct. 23.—Governor Roosevelt finished the first day of his flying campaign through the state in Kingston after traveling 89 miles and making eight speeches, the longest being at Newburg and Kingston. At the former place, the home of the Republican candidate for governor, he talked to a vast assemblage, having to speak in two places. Spectators interrupted the speaker with questions, in every instance receiving a reply. At West Nyack, a man close to the car cried and reiterated, "Hurrah for Bryan!" and Mr. Roosevelt replied, "Why don't you hurrah for Altgeld and Agulnido?" The cheering ceased. Another called, "What about the ice trust?" and he answered, "This election will be decided by the patriots and men of sense in the country, who outnumber the junker shouters of your type. The ice trust will be attended to in a proper legal way."

A man in the crowd at Newburg said, in a low tone of voice, "Why did you call Democrats cowards and dishonest?" Roosevelt heard him and flung back quickly this characteristic reply, "It's a lie; I never said such a thing. It is Democrats—good Democrats—who will swell our majority."

Toward the end of his remarks at Newburg the governor was interrupted a number of times by some shouts of "What is the matter with Bryan?" "Down with trusts." Governor Roosevelt remarked, "That gentleman has all the symptoms of a Bryanite," which sally was greeted with laughter and applause. Then walking over to one side of the platform and speaking directly toward the point from which the shouts arose the governor said, "You look like one of those men who work exclusively with their mouths. What do you mean to do with the cotton bale trust of Mr. Jones or the ice trust of Mr. Croker?" (Cries of "What is the matter with Bryan? He's all right.") "That is an argument of wind. (Great applause.) You are afraid to hear the truth; you interrupt this meeting because you are a hoodlum and nothing else. You represent the disorderly class that is naturally against us. You represent those people who naturally object to prosperity; you don't get any part of it, because you won't work. (Applause.) Now, then, go back to your fellow hoboos (applause) and learn after this (more yelling, and the man evidently turned to depart) that you stand against the flag, you haven't got a particle of patriotism in you. I am glad you are going away. I think you have learned enough hereafter not to monkey with the buzzsaw. (Long and continued applause.) Now, gentlemen, in the temporary absence of the local police, I have driven off that disturber of the meeting." (Applause.)

At Newburg the party was entertained at Mr. Odell's home.

NOMINATIONS DECLARED VALID.

Dauphin County (Pa.) Court Disposed of Certain Cases.

Harrisburg, Oct. 23.—The Dauphin county court disposed of the last of the election contests by declaring valid the certificates of Dr. Daniel P. Gerberich, candidate for senator, and Dr. Thomas T. Zerbe and Samuel Groh, candidates for assembly in Lebanon county, and declaring invalid the certificates of Robert S. Edmiston and Bradley W. Lewis, rival Republican candidates for senator in the Bradford-Wyoming division.

The certificates of John S. Lambing and George W. Spaulding, People's party candidates in the Second Erie assembly district, and Andrew J. Palm, John L. Wilson and L.D. Brown, People's party nominees for the assembly in Crawford county, were also declared valid.

John Wanamaker Spoke. Pottstown, Oct. 23.—After an absence of two years from the political stump, John Wanamaker spoke here last night in the interests of the anti-machine legislative ticket of Montgomery county. He was greeted by a crowded house. He took occasion to say he was not a candidate for United States senator.

On the 6th day of November the voters will say "Let well enough alone."

Bryan Spoke in West Virginia.

Huntington, W. Va., Oct. 23.—W. J. Bryan made speeches at several towns in this state and then left for Washington en route for Maryland, where he speaks today.

BRYAN FOR TAMMANY.

Crocker Has a Hard and Fast Alliance With Him.

CHIEF CROKER RAN EVERYTHING.

On Bryan's Visit to New York City. Crocker Was His Guide and Escort at Every Stage of the Proceedings—Anxious to Handle New York Patronage.

The greatest and brightest day in Bryan's history came and went on Tuesday, October 16, with his gorgeous reception by Tammany hall in New York city. But the greater it was, the more glaring its evidence of a danger in his election, from the company that he keeps. He is in alliance with Crocker and Tammany. The Democratic organ of central Ohio, the Columbus Press-Post, of Monday, October 15, in a New York dispatch about the "rivalry of two New York hotels over the patronage of William Jennings Bryan," free of pay, said: "But Mr. Crocker stepped in and settled the matter, and Mr. Bryan will go to the Hoffman house." Mr. Richard Crocker was the "whole thing" that day and that night. One account says of Bryan that "Crocker took personal and almost absolute charge. He seemed afraid some one else might show the Democratic candidate attention and kept close at his side all the time. He met him at the Grand Central station when Mr. Bryan arrived in the afternoon and hardly left him for a minute from then on."

Crocker's pre-eminence in Bryan's company on that occasion was so conspicuous that the London Times correspondent in New York cabled his paper:

"Everything is done which the wit of man can devise to identify Crocker with Bryan, Bryan with Tammany, and Tammany with New York. What Crocker desires is to impress on the country at large the oneness of Tammany and the Democratic party throughout the United States, and the closeness of the political brotherhood between himself and the Democratic leader. * * * For Crocker's ambition, once limited to municipal objects, has grown to embrace New York state, in which he now controls the Democratic machine, and in the United States he has made good his foothold through the Kansas City national Democratic convention, and the party must accept the consequences of his ascendancy."

Another account of the banquet at "$12 a plate exclusive of the wines," in the Louis XV. room of the Hoffman house, says that beside Bryan and Crocker and Adlai Stevenson, "there was not a Democrat of first rate size at the board. The Tammany outfit was very much in evidence. Where were all the big Democrats of New York? Where were Hill and Coler? Mr. Bryan was informed they had not been invited, and that their friends were angry about it." The ice trust was represented by Crocker, Mayor Van Wyck, Judge Van Wyck, and Carroll and Whalen, two of the directors. At Madison Square garden, Bryan was introduced by Edward Mr. Shepard, who that day appeared in court as attorney for the sugar trust. "All about him on the platform were members of the Tammany ice trust. Of the 200 vice presidents, 180 were Tammany officeholders. Of well-known Democrats of New York city and Brooklyn, as judges, lawyers and business men, not one was there, except Crocker and Shepard." That nobody may think that these are partisan statements, distorted in order to do injustice to Mr. Bryan, we submit herewith the following sentences from the Associated Press account, as printed in full by the Cincinnati Enquirer, adding in all only the half a dozen words needed to explain each quotation:

The crowd cheered and hallooed as Colonel Bryan stepped out on the platform. Then, escorted by Richard Crocker and the committee, he began the journey toward the street.

Richard Crocker sat next to him, while Mr. Hearst and Mr. Shevlin occupied the other two seats in the carriage.

The dinner tendered William J. Bryan at the Hoffman house, at 5:50 o'clock this afternoon was not held in the Moorish room as at first intended, but in the Salon Louis Quinze. Colonel Bryan's portrait, framed in a silk American flag, was just behind the chair reserved for Mayor Van Wyck, the presiding officer. It was discovered during the afternoon that the decorator had, in arranging the portrait of Colonel Bryan, intertwined the Filipino and American colors about the picture. This was believed to be an error, and at dinner time the colors of Aguinaldo were conspicuously absent.

When all were seated Colonel Bryan was between Crocker and Mayor Van Wyck.

The much-disputed cost of the dinner was settled by the Hoffman house management, who said that the cost was $12 per plate, exclusive of the wines.

About 200 men from the different city departments were on hand to act as ushers at Madison Square garden. Colonel Bryan entered at 7:15 o'clock. As the face of Mr. Crocker, behind which appeared Colonel Bryan's was seen the crowd burst forth in one great prolonged yell. As Colonel Bryan, escorted by Mr. Crocker, mounted the speakers' stand the cheering was continuous. Colonel Bryan rose to his feet and raised his hand. Mr. Crocker pulled him back into his seat. The cheering went on. Then Mr. Crocker rose, hesitated a moment, then raised his hand for silence. Instead of ceasing the crowd broke forth louder than ever. When quiet was restored Mr. Crocker rose, took Mr. Shepard by the hand and introduced him to the audience as chairman of the meeting.

It was shortly after 9 o'clock when the cavalcade heading the Bryan party rode down Madison avenue to the stand. The carriage could not drive within 50 feet of it, and Colonel Bryan, Mr. Crocker, Mr. Hearst and James Shevlin, of Brooklyn, who were in carriages, walked to the stand.

The minute Colonel Bryan stopped speaking Mr. Crocker took his arm and led him to the rear of the stand to see the crowd assembled there. He waved his hat to them and Mr. Crocker asked him: "Did you ever see anything like it?"

"Wonderful, wonderful," Colonel Bryan replied.

Colonel Bryan and his party arrived at Tammany hall at 9:25. Senator Mackey was speaking, but as soon as the crowd recognized Bryan it rose to its feet and cheered for several minutes. Richard Crocker, who accompanied Colonel Bryan, took a seat on the rear of the platform while the candidate went to the front and acknowledged the greeting.

IF BRYAN SHOULD WIN.

Uncertainty, demoralization and depression are the dangers dreaded by the people in the present election if Bryanism wins, the more they see and hear him, the more evident their dread of his ascendancy, the more sure their drift away from him. It is well said by a close observer that "innumerable citizens will vote the Republican ticket, not because of personal likes or dislikes, but because they are against business demoralization and opposed to disturbing trade and finance, while the tide is running strongly for prosperity." They believe that Bryan "proposes dangerous experiments for established stability," and have found out that instead of having learned anything by the experience of the past four years, he is wilder and worse than he ever was.

As our army law, attacked by Bryan in his speeches, was enacted by the votes in congress of most of the Democrats in house and senate, Governor Roosevelt well asks "whether Mr. Bryan means to imply that these Democrats, in so voting, headed by Senator Cockrell, were actuated by the purpose to put the army in forts near great cities in order to terrorize working men?"

"I am for the flag first, last and all the time" is the way one Democrat speaks for multitudes who will vote for McKinley. This one is the editor of the Mount Pulaski Democrat, a prominent lawyer and a Democratic member of the last Illinois legislature.

WATCH THE COUNT.

Democratic Scheme to Carry Ohio For Bryan.

KEEP GUARD AT EVERY POINT!

There Are Thirty-three Hundred Precincts In Ohio, and the Stealing of a Few Votes In Every Precinct Would Mean a Change In the State's Vote.

The Republican state committee is informed that a scheme is on foot to steal the state for Bryan, if it can be done.

There are many ways in which this might be attempted, and every one of these should be guarded against. One is, to call a Republican ticket as a Democratic one, in the count of the vote. Another, and a very clever one, is for a Democratic judge who is "calling" the tickets one by one, to pick up two tickets at a time, thus losing one vote to McKinley and the whole Republican ticket every time this is done.

A single Democrat, on an election board, may thus reverse the verdict of his precinct. The ballots are destroyed when the count is completed, thus precluding any recount. See to it that the count is an honest one. The Republicans have nothing to fear from an honest ballot and a straight count.

Republican precinct committeemen in every precinct in Ohio have the legal right to see that EVERY BALLOT is not only called, but is called correctly. Insist on your legal rights!

Men who can be relied upon absolutely should be appointed watchers at EVERY polling place in the state, and they should be instructed to see that neither Republicans nor Democrats shall be cheated out of the votes which legally belong to them. Republicans want honest elections. They believe in the rule of the majority, and not in fraud and cheating.

TO THE WORKINGMEN.

Effects of Republican Policies Upon Their Welfare.

Hon. W. S. Manning, in a recent speech before a Republican club at Zanesville, made some telling points with his audience, which was largely composed of workingmen. Here are a couple of sample points:

"The workingmen, after having experienced a dose of Democracy, came to their senses in 1896, and placed in power the friends of American industry, with William McKinley at their head. The Dingley bill was passed, and as if by magic the mills were opened in every portion of the land. The workingmen can find employment without tramping from city to city. Universal prosperity, industry and happiness exists throughout the land where only four years ago distress, poverty and idleness prevailed.

"It is inconceivable that the workingmen of our country will permit themselves to be again led astray by the pleadings of a man who appeals to the passions and prejudices of the thoughtless and the evil-inclined. As ex-President Harrison said in his recent interview, referring to Mr. Bryan, that it is 'a dangerous thing to permit such a man even so much as to lean against the pillars of the temple.'"

"The paramount issue in this campaign is one which comes home to every man and affects all alike. It is whether the prosperity which was brought about by the election of William McKinley shall be continued."—From Senator Foraker's Speech.

A Sure Sign.

IN THE PHILIPPINES.

It is not at all sensational nor surprising that letters of the Filipinos show that they are basing their hopes on Bryan, and that they have been unusually active of late in order to further Bryan's campaign. The trouble is, that the Filipinos overlook one point—that Bryan is playing false with them when he promises that the United States will give up the Philippines. The president cannot do this without the consent of both houses of congress. A consent on the part of the senate is out of question, and the Democrats of the south have declared, as openly as is possible, that they will never consent to giving up the Philippines, as they consider the possession of these islands of absolute necessity for the development of the south.

BRYAN'S SOLILOQUY.

Well, I suppose
That everyone knows
As Freedom's Friend I always pose.
For freedom I pined
When I resigned
And became a hero—in my mind.
My uniform bright
Was my delight
Until they wished that I should fight
When, o'er my heart
Shot keenest dart,
I thought my soul and gall must part.
With many a sigh
I bade 'em good bye
And now I'm a silver agent fly.
I am Croker's pet,
In out of the wet
And for a fat berth we are both dead set.
And if we win
And gather it in
We purpose purloining whole cartloads of tin.
For Old Uncle Sam
We don't care a ham
And that's the kind of a hero I am.

Superb Lots

-----Situated in----- Gardendale.

J. T. AND WILL S. SMITH wish to call the attention of the public to

SIXTY LOTS

Which they own in Gardendale. These lots are all situated near the CALCUTTA ROAD, which is now being paved, and are convenient to the Street Car Line, Being located as they are above the fog, and commanding a pleasant view, convenient to both street car line and paved street, makes these lots very desirable. If you will call at the office of

THE J. T. SMITH LUMBER CO.,
East Market Street,

They will take pleasure in showing you the premises and lots in question. You will find their terms very easy, and
